Preface

It is like one we would prop up on a dresser, or an old friend.

To the stranger it is an unfamiliar face gathering dust; it is worth a moment of curiosity, an idle question or two, and no more.

But for us its two dimensions are a door that opens to part of the mind a labyrinth of corridors that we and memory wander together.

We can spend hours there, dreaming backwards.

We turn pages, like opening doors to rooms in this mansion of the mind. The rooms are warmed with laughter and crackling fireplaces, and voices, and songs, and faces. All kinds of faces.

There are smiling faces, and sad faces; there are dimpled ones, and freckled ones.

There are the upturned, and the shining, and there are the hurt down-turned ones.

There are dreamers. There are roses.

There are the "Mt. Rushmore faces" of student leaders; there are quiet steady faces; there are mannequins with unreal sameness. And there are the forever faces that have stared into the pool of our minds, and remain a reflection there — strangely enough — long after they have gone.

And the many faces of these college years are but different expressions of a single face — La Sierra College.

The 1967 METEOR is the portrait of a face.

For the expressions he has been on the face of La Sierra College:

For laughter, and charm, and energy in service.

And the personable "prof." he has been to us all.

For choosing to say it to us

with a violin;

For long years —

We dedicate this 1967 METEOR to Professor Alfred Walters.

In the morning, when the day is yawning itself awake, and the sky is flushed rosey with cheeks of dawn, our world of unshaven faces and curlers in the hair, tumbles out of bed, and the evening and the morning is another "first day." No one can rest on his laurels.
All must begin again in the morning. As though we had wandered after the flickering visions of sleep, we must return again to the Lord.

Our mind is a mirror; and we stare at ourselves reflected there. We see our losses, and hurts, our pettiness and wrong; we live David's psalm, "my sin is ever before me."
But every day we hear Him on the other side of the mirror, etching His way through the glass.

He gradually makes the mirror a window, and we do not see our face anymore, but the face of our brothers, and His face.

"Now we see through a glass darkly; but then face to face."

There are the unforgettable pictures that we can never pose for, as in a family portrait; They must be snapped rapidly, but they last forever in the mind. They are of faces taut and sweating, that strain for the mark; that breathe hard, and glisten with triumph.

These athletic faces are sculptured in stone by strong arms and thick hands.
 These faces are not poured in a mold in a moment's time. They are cut, and carved, and chiseled, and shaped, by long years.
 This is the face of La Sierra College when it is out in the sun.

Some people recognize only a few familiar faces. The student acquaints himself with more than just his circle of friends. He knows scientists, or theologians, or poets, or philosophers, far back in history. He paints a portrait of them to hang in his study, and this is learning.

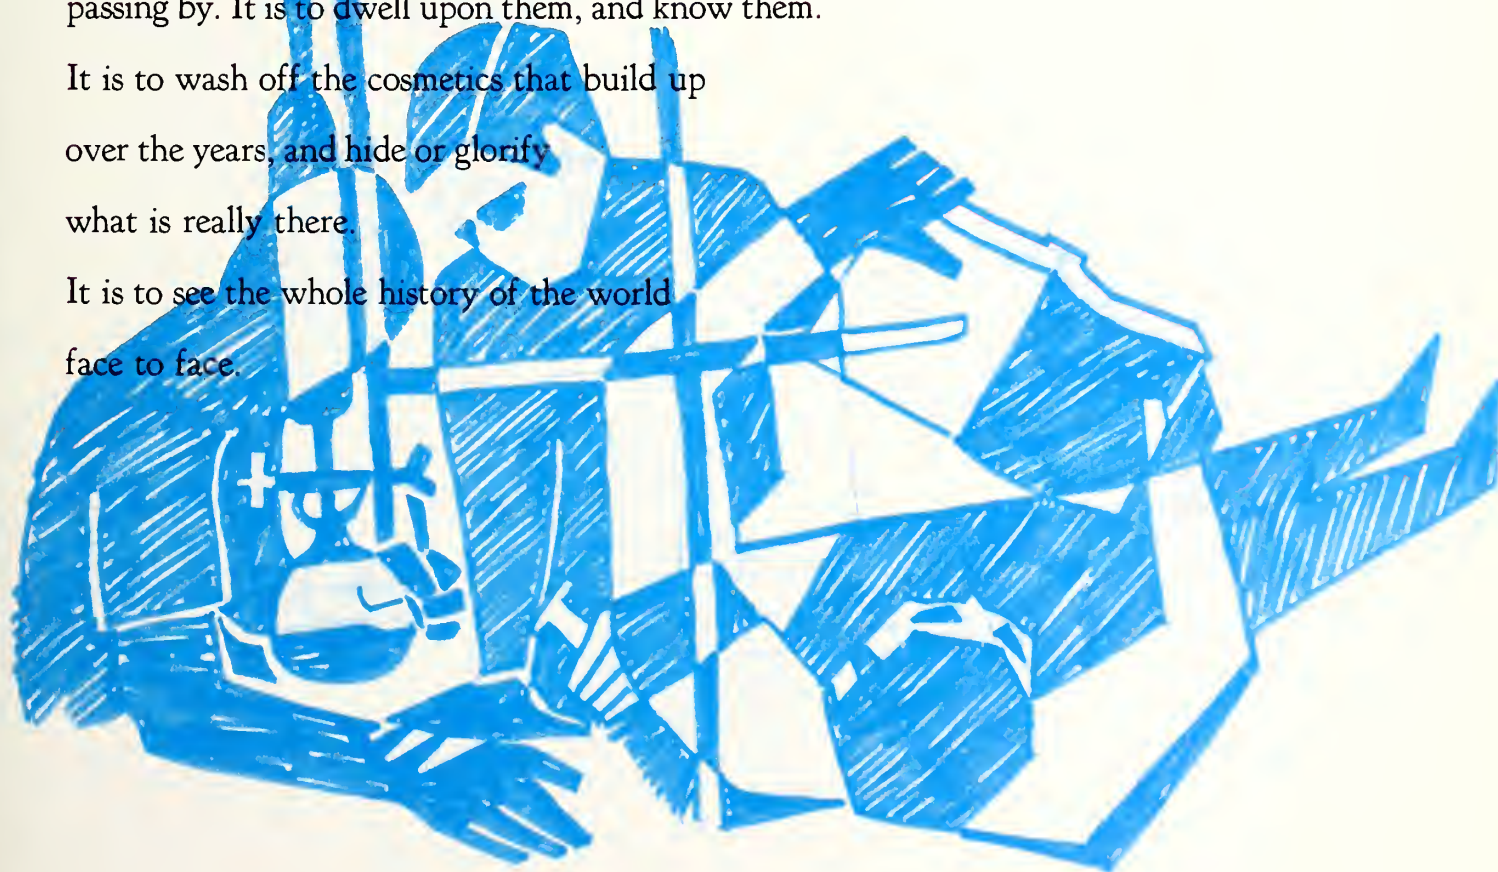

To study is not to glance at these faces in history passing by. It is to dwell upon them, and know them.

It is to wash off the cosmetics that build up over the years, and hide or glorify what is really there.

It is to see the whole history of the world
face to face.

We say, "She has so much expression in her face."
We mean, her face is alive and versatile. Not the face of a wooden doll. And all over our campus the expressions can change, for whatever the mood.
There is applause in an assembly hall,
and meditation in a chapel.
There are thorough-fares, and quiet corners.
There are fields, and mountains,
and dormitory rooms and lounges.
There is noon-day smiling down on us,
and there is dusk on the mall.

Dawn is a dreamful look at the day ahead.

Morning classes are attentive looks, and textbooks, and notes, and bells, and veins flowing with people.

The afternoon is mirrored in a million test tubes, or absorbed in the soil. Twilight is reflecting on the day past. Sometime in the evening, we can relax and let the fireside laugh warmly at us about the day.

Some faces, in time, fade into the landscape behind. Some are cartoon faces to us, caricatures good for a laugh in passing. Some faces always have masks over them, and we paint them faceless.

We may forget a name, but we never forget a face, because faces are sketched in our minds, and painted there with all sorts of memorable colors. We paint them happy, or singing, or hopeful. Some are masterpieces, for we have spent much time at the easel. Some are only brief sketches to us.

An artist talks to us without words.

An artist talks to us with form, and lines, and color.

Faces are that way.

What is there to see but lines and wrinkles

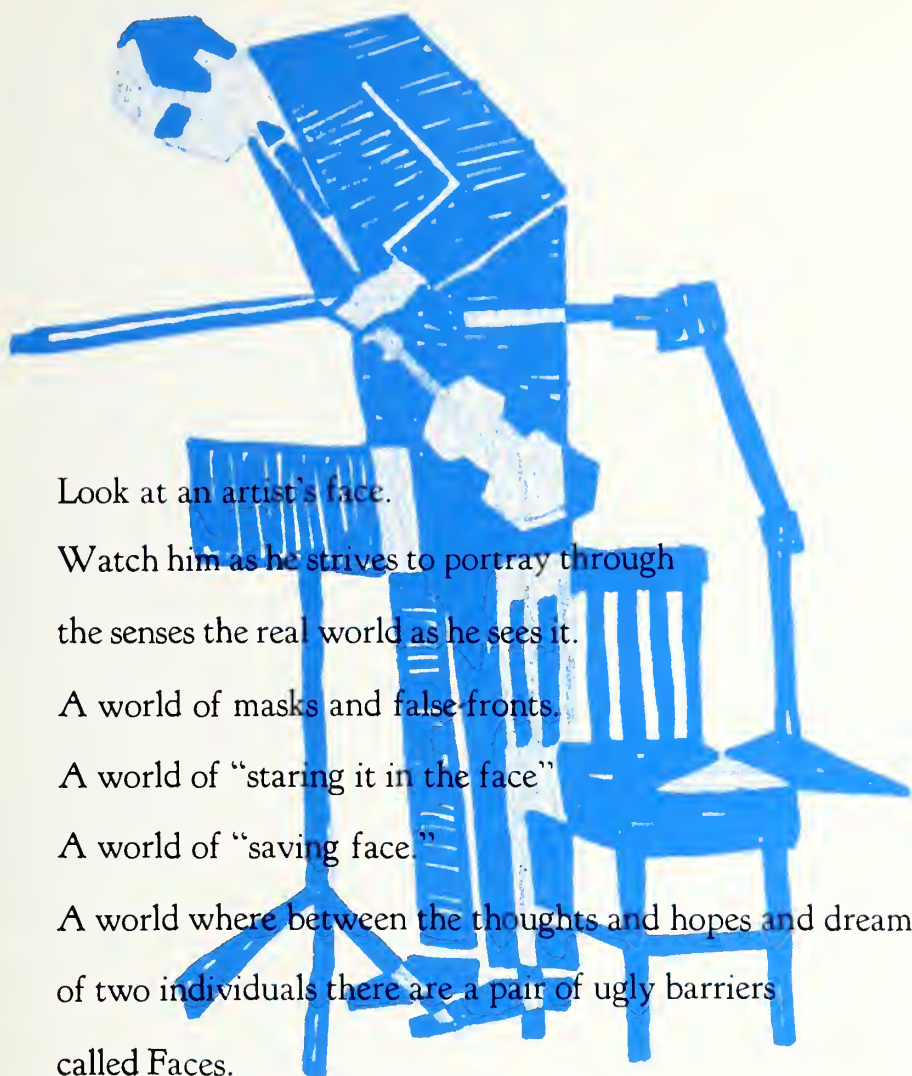

but rises and depressions

but shapes and structures

but lights and darks.

Yet they can say so much without words.

They mirror the soul.

Look at an artist's face.

Watch him as he strives to portray through the senses the real world as he sees it.

A world of masks and false fronts.

A world of "staring it in the face"

A world of "saving face."

A world where between the thoughts and hopes and dreams of two individuals there are a pair of ugly barriers called Faces.

There is much to remember about a face.

A face says so much.

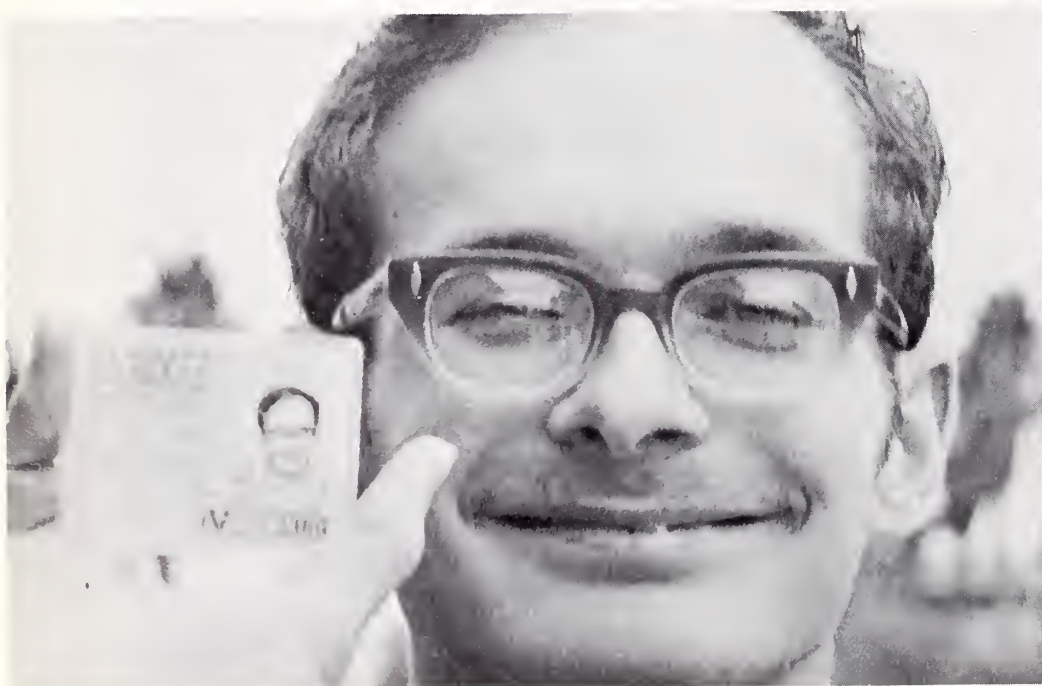

We feel a hand on a shoulder, but a face speaks to us.

And the face of Sierra College has said some unforgettable words to us young men and women. It says words we will hear throughout our lives;

words we will never forget a face.

Dripping faces gliding through the water,
sun-tanned faces swishing down a mountain slope, perspiring faces distorted with exertion reflect the transcending harmonic interaction between body and mind as physical action builds coordination and discipline.
Skills develop giving control and grace, vitalizing sluggish organisms

La Sierra Intramurals Form

The Intramural Board organizes La Sierra College's intramurals. The board chooses team captains, directs participation, schedules events, and encourages enthusiasm for athletics. The board also coordinates the annual intramural banquet which features a personality from the sports world as its speaker.

On May 15, last year's Intramural Banquet was held in the Commons. Jerry West, Los Angeles Laker star, was the guest speaker. Winston De Haven, associate secretary in the M.V. department of the Southeastern California Conference emceed the evening's program. The purpose of the banquet was to give awards to intramural winners and participants for the past year.

As soon as the teams were chosen for the 1966 flag-ball season, it seemed apparent that two of the teams possessed the greatest potential to take the title. These two squads, the Packers of Lynn Hilde and the Falcons of Roy Lokna, had height and weight advantages over the rest of the league. The Packers: Neil Adams, Jerry Babcock, Roland Bainer, Art Bradford, Ray Diaz, Tim Doles, Lee Giddings, Richard Harding, Lynn Hilde, captain, and Al Kreuzer took the championship.

downs were produced between the two teams, and extra points were the deciding factors in the final score. After smothering the last place bound Rebels of Tony McCourry, 26-3, the Packers prepared for their big showdown with the only undefeated team in the league, the Falcons of Roy Lokna. The Packers came out on top in the contest but had to struggle to do it as they fought their way to a 12-6 victory. Again the defensive team proved itself almost invincible.

It may not be tackle football, but things still get a bit rough during flagball game between the Falcons and Rebels.

With Hilde and Giddings alternating at quarterback the Packers used an effective run-pass option to good advantage as they started their season on September 29 by defeating a formidable group of old pros, the faculty, 20-12.

The next obstacle for the Packers proved to be a big one as they squeaked by the Chargers of Ernie McDole, 6-0. On October 10 the Trojans of Bill Spears tried to stop the "von Hilde Express" but came up on the short end of a 26-24 decision. The game proved to be a full color offensive show as eight touch-

All the Packers had to do in their final game to cinch the title was gain a tie with Tom Anderson's Titans. That is exactly what they did, but the roof almost caved in on their title hopes when the Titans tied the score at 12-12 with a touchdown and only a couple of minutes left in the game. The extra point try was wide to the right of the goal posts, but Anderson's team got the ball once again with only seconds remaining. The gun sounded as Lynn Hilde tipped a pass just out of the awaiting hands of Tom Anderson in the end zone. The Titans' scoring attempt thwarted, the title belonged to the Packers.

Stan Aufdemburg shows exuberant enthusiasm as he works at thankless job of carrying the chains.

The defense closes in fast on Tony McCourry as he takes pitch-out in attempted end sweep.

Mixed doubles team winners Walt Lancaster and Janet Haffner accept congratulations from Dan Rathbun and Lori Suelzle.

One of the first intramural tournaments in the school year is the intramural tennis tournament. Each team plays every other team once and in the meet, which occurs on Sunday mornings, provides five singles matches and four doubles teams. These matches, each consisting of a single ten-game set, must include at least two matches involving two different girls. Each match counts as one point toward the team score, and the team with the most number of points wins the encounter.

In previous years the teams consisted of members from each of the academic classes with one or two faculty teams. This year a new approach was taken. Five captains were selected and of these the four student captains: Hans Gregorius, Harold Mulder, John Phillips, and Brent Yingling chose members for their teams from all classes. Mr. Eugene Nash captained the faculty team.

Harold Mulder stretches to deliver a cannon ball serve.

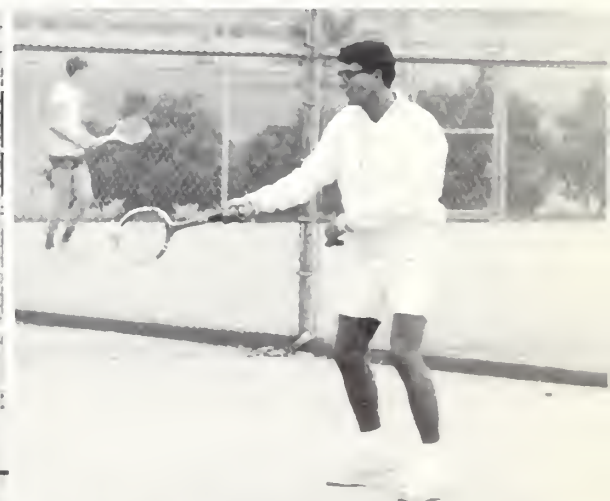

Professor Alfred Walters attempts to put top spin to his drive.

Len Ramey drives the ball down the right side line.

Lynn Hilde prepares to serve as Harold Mulder, his doubles partner, waits alertly.

Faculty Team Wins with Perfect Season

The faculty team, bolstered by the return of Dr. Frederick Hoyt, easily won the tournament. Oddly enough the winner of the tournament was determined at the very first game when the faculty defeated John Phillips' team, whose final tournament record was 3-1. In that encounter the faculty team took four out of five singles matches right at the start and almost got the fifth and winning point. However, Richard Harding endured a 17-15 singles win. Phillips' team threatened a comeback when John Phillips and David Lowe, the 1st doubles team, made a come-from-behind victory, 11-9, over Dr. Hoyt and Dr. Magi. Phil Lowe and Allen Padgett, the 2nd doubles team, also scored a victory by defeating Mr. Hammerslough and Marcella Burks. However, all hopes for victory were wiped out when Phillips' team could not salvage two mixed doubles teams and had to forfeit these matches.

Keith Green rips into the ball in an exciting intramural soccer game.

That's using your head. Dave Walters shows that there is more than one way to move a soccer ball.

Conner's Cagers Grab Title

The pre-season consensus generally rated Trent Westermeyer's Royals as the team to beat in basketball intramurals for 1966-67. The Celtics of Mike Conner seemed to be the only team with a chance of giving the Royals some competition for the title.

After two easy wins over the Hawks and Bulls, Rich Harding sustained an ankle injury and was lost for most of the rest of the season. This all but eliminated the Royals from the race as they were forced to play without their first-string center, thus diminishing some of their offensive scoring threat and much of their defensive board strength. Meanwhile, back in the Celtics camp, Conner's boys had been rolling through the season on the sharp shooting of Dennis Stirling and Mike himself, supplemented by some rugged rebounding by Al Kreuzer. The Celts enjoyed a banner season enroute to a first place finish, the only blemish being a 60-59 setback at the hands of the last-place Warriors.

Mike Conner shows how it's done the easy way as he stuffs the ball during the last game of the season.

Dean Botimer lofts a high-arching jump shot towards the basket just over the out-stretched finger tips of a defender.

Kurt Cao demonstrates technique that helped him to the number two position in the "top ten" scorers with a 16.1 average points per game.

Gordon Phillips gets the jump on his opponent as he controls the tip-off during a "B" league game.

Dean Lyle Botimer blocks the way of Dick Hebbel's drive as Dick Hamilton stands ready to give assistance.

Mike Conner goes up for two more with a 15-foot jumper.

Gymkhana

Gymkhana serves a variety of purposes at La Sierra College, but primarily it provides a means for physical development of the body while building a character through a program of cooperative competition.

Gymkhana students enjoy a vigorous program of physical activity which renders them healthier and better fit to live active Christian lives. In addition, they learn how to work together in harmony with other students.

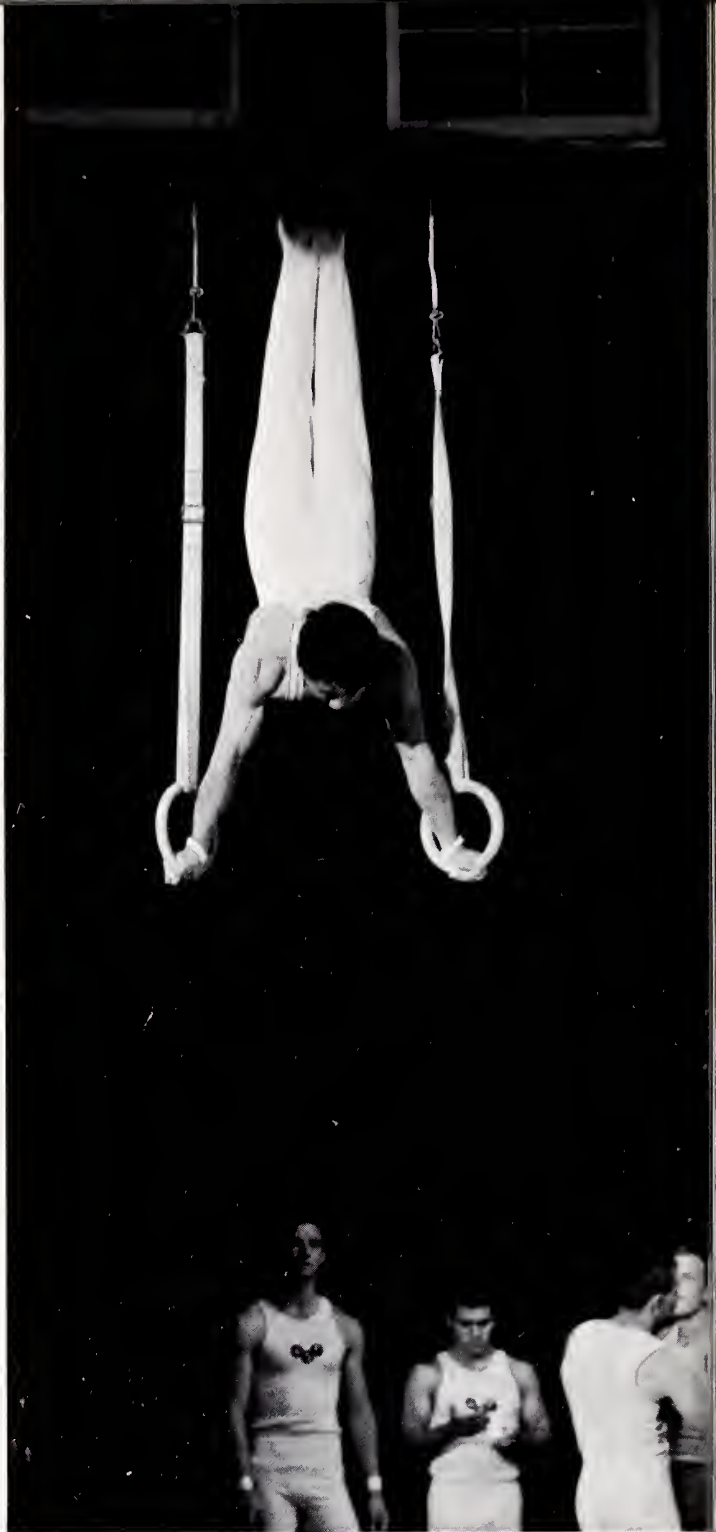

Bill Smith and Neil Adams present clowning act on the trampoline.

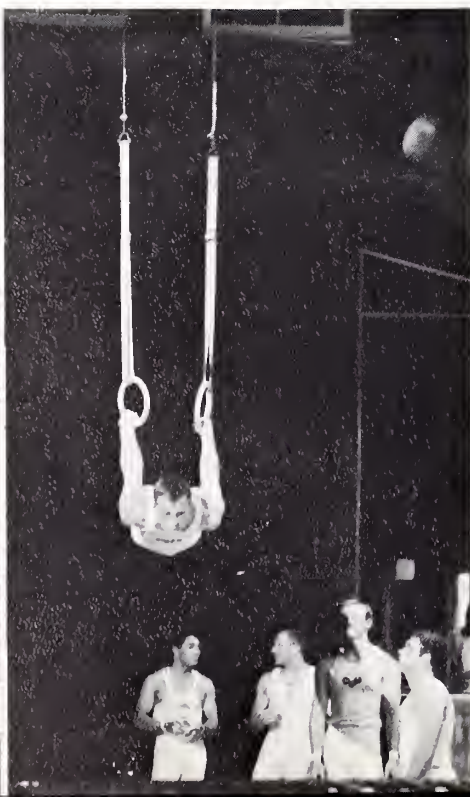

Sidney Lew spreads out in phlange maneuver.

Diane Dahl has a triumphant smile to go with execution of front splits on the balance beam.

Mike McDonough, captain of the Gymkhana team for 1967, presents award to Coach Pritchard for his outstanding work with the Gymkhana team.

Guest, Dan Garcia of L.A. State, in hand stand on the rings.

Neil Adams shows determination as he descends into the olympic iron cross on the still rings.

Gymkhana

Gymkhana class meets twice a week under the instruction of Mr. Marion Pritchard. Students are taught how to perform various separate stunts, then the stunts are strung together in a standard routine or a routine which is developed by the pupil's own ingenuity.

Those individuals who excel in class and demonstrate special ability are chosen to perform on the Gymkhana team. This group stages programs throughout the entire Southern California area. Tours took team members this year to such places as Thunderbird, Newbury Park, San Pasqual, and San Fernando academies, and Sturgiss Junior High School in San Bernardino. The highlight of the year's work is the annual program put on by the Gymkhana team at La Sierra College.

Packed with thrills, spills, excitement, and humor, it is a practical demonstration of what Gymkhana members have achieved through months of preparation and practice.

Mike McDonough swings down from hand stand into a phlange on the parallel bars.

Sylvia Ammundsen rolls down from shoulder stand on the four-inch wide balance beam.

Obie Hicks shows how it's done as he soars over cross bar in high jump.

Claude Howard of La Sierra Academy makes a good showing against college competition in the long jump.

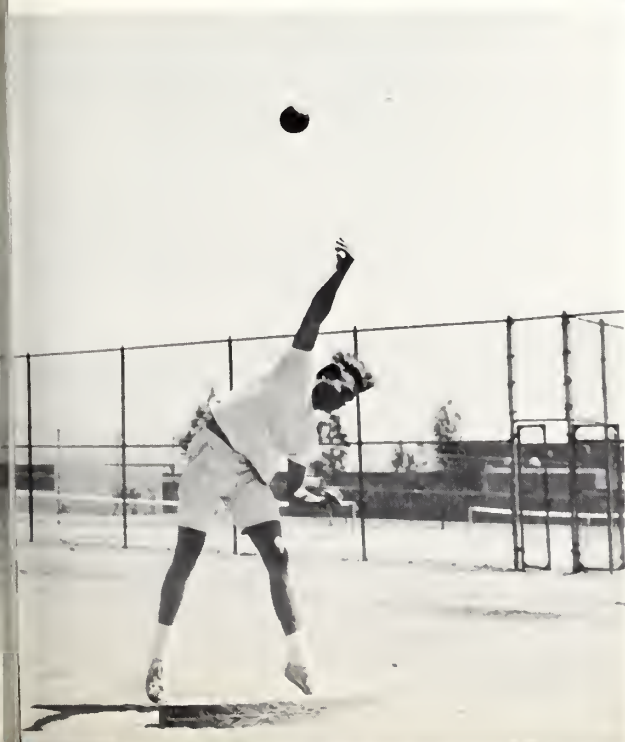

Bill Hemmerlin displays intense look in the midst of setting a school record in the javelin.

Track and Field

With excellent form Mike Norris makes it look easy as he sets a school record in the high jump at 6 feet 4 inches.

With great concentration and powerful thrust Elmer Chin-nock lets go with a mighty heave of the shot.

Breaking the tape Janene Turner wins the 440-yard run in women's competition.

Mike Norris goes up and over with a fine effort in the pole vault.

The 1966 track and field intramurals provided lots of fun, action, and tension-filled excitement for participants and spectators alike in the three meets held during the year. Thirty-eight athletes on two teams captained by Mike Norris and Del Scharffenberg threw, ran, and jumped their way through two dual meets on campus in addition to the final championship meet held at Norte Vista High School. Norris' Athenians proved all too powerful as they outpointed the Spartans of Scharffenberg to win the title. School records were set in the High Jump (Mike Norris), Javelin (Bill Hemmerlin), 100-yard Dash (Bob Henderson—tied record), 120-yard low hurdles (Mike Norris), and 440-yard women's run (Janene Turner).

Three Teams Battle to First Place Tie

Excitement ran high and play was unexcelled during the 1967 intramural water polo season as three teams battled for first place. At the end of the campaign all the teams were in the same position as before the season started. Bruce Anderson's Fins seemed well on their way to the title by winning their first two games, but lost their last two. The Scales of Ken Hicks defeated the Fins in the second-to-the-last game of the season keeping their hopes alive and setting up the showdown between the Gils (captain—Don Goley) and the Fins. By trouncing the Fins 10 to 1 in the finale the Gils evened theirs and the Fins' record at two wins and two losses each to match the mark set by the Scales, thereby throwing the standings into a three-way deadlock.

Richard Harding slings the ball over a defender's head en route to the goal.

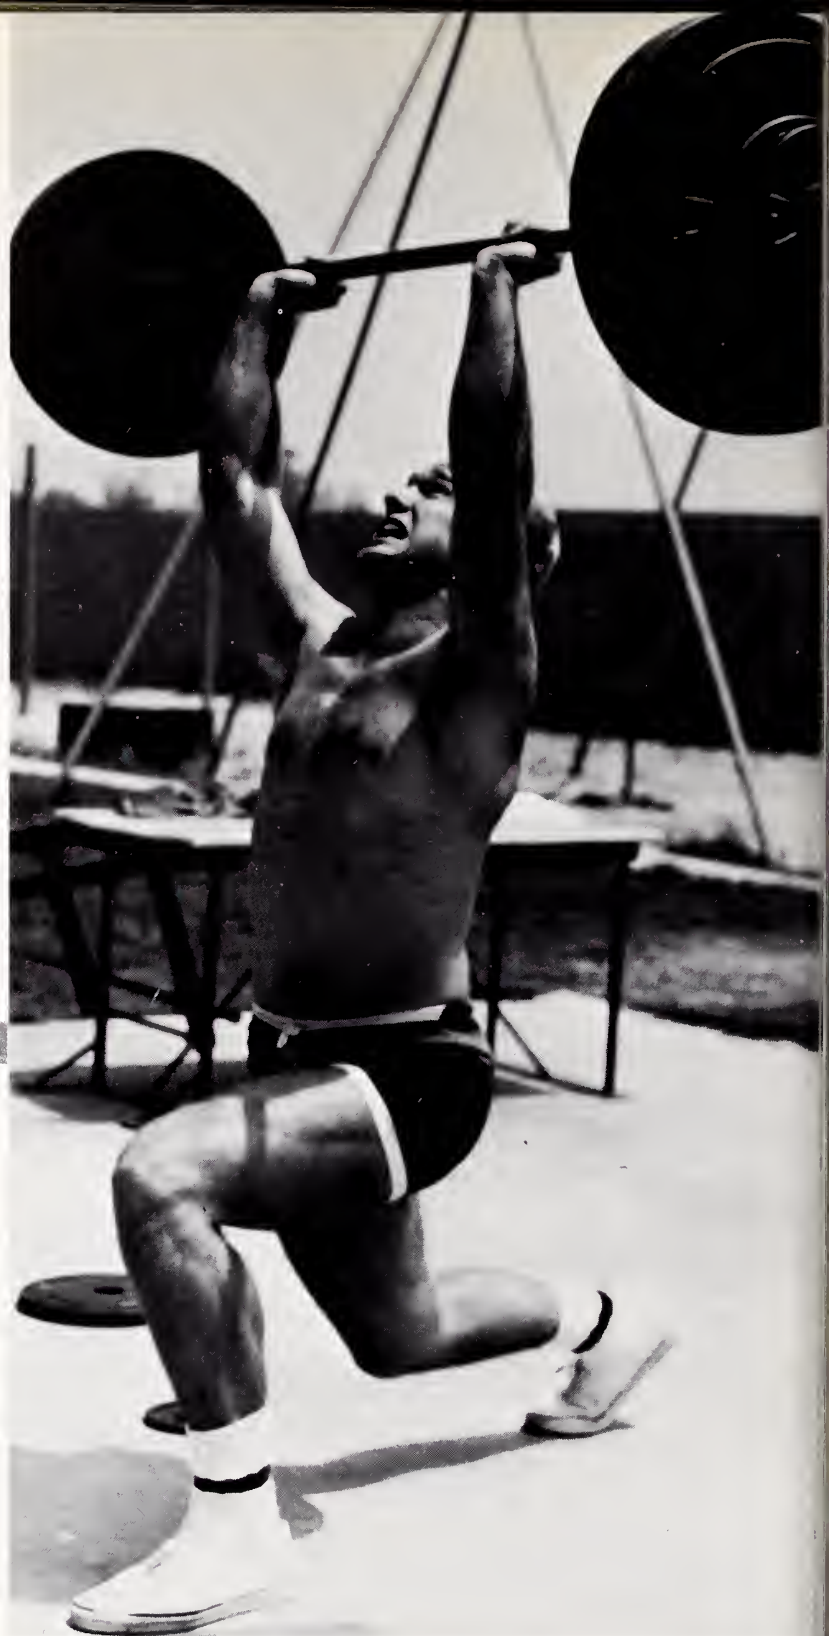

Goalie springs up to block shot in an intramural water polo game.

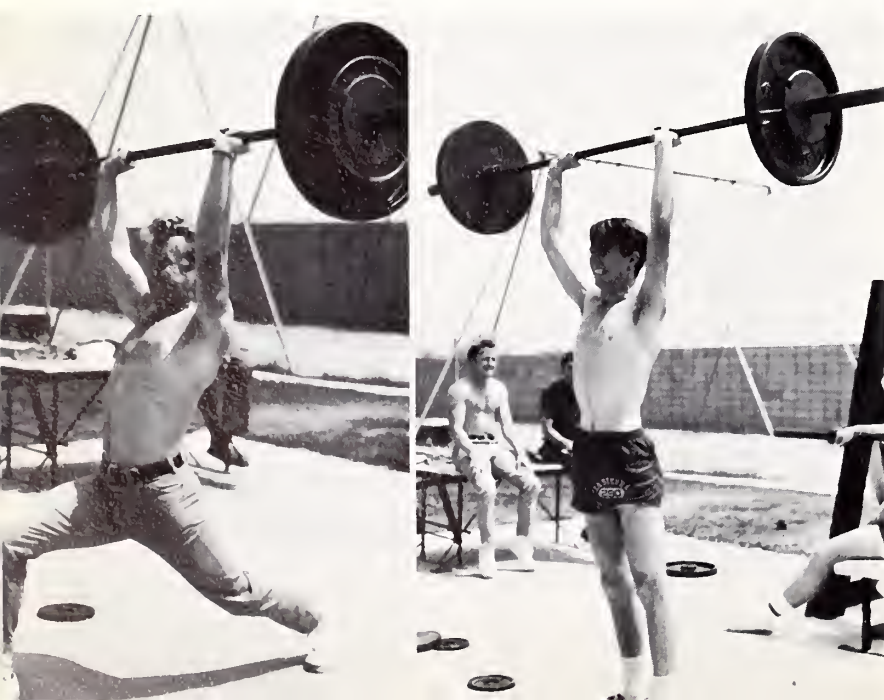

Weight Lifting

Weight lifting became an intramural sport for the first time during 1966. In the spring a weight lifting meet was held, and since it was the first meet in La Sierra's history all marks established became school records.

Lynn Hilde took top honors in the light-heavyweight division with a clean and jerk of 270 lbs. and press of 200 lbs. In the lightweight division Larry Parker pressed 155 lbs. and had a clean and jerk of 180 lbs. which was good enough for first place. Chuck Boice cleaned and jerked 155 lbs. and pressed 135 lbs. to win the featherweight title.

Lynn Hilde demonstrates clean and jerk. Lynn set a school record of 270 lbs.

Clean and jerk done by Larry Parker for first place in lightweight division.

Chuck Boice shows determined look as he executes a press.

Judo

Led by Mike Bradbrook, president, and Mr. Dick Song, sponsor, the Judo Club, meeting every Sunday in College Hall, has been a very active organization on campus this year.

In order to gain membership in the club the applicant must either be enrolled in a judo class or have experience in the sport.

Besides intra-squad competition the group also competes with judo teams from other cities.

One of the highlights of the year was an exhibition at the Festival of Nations.

Daniel Oh splits the boards with one mighty, determined kick.

Dollie Lewis shows Larry Beeson that judo is not just a man's sport as she floors him with a hip throw.

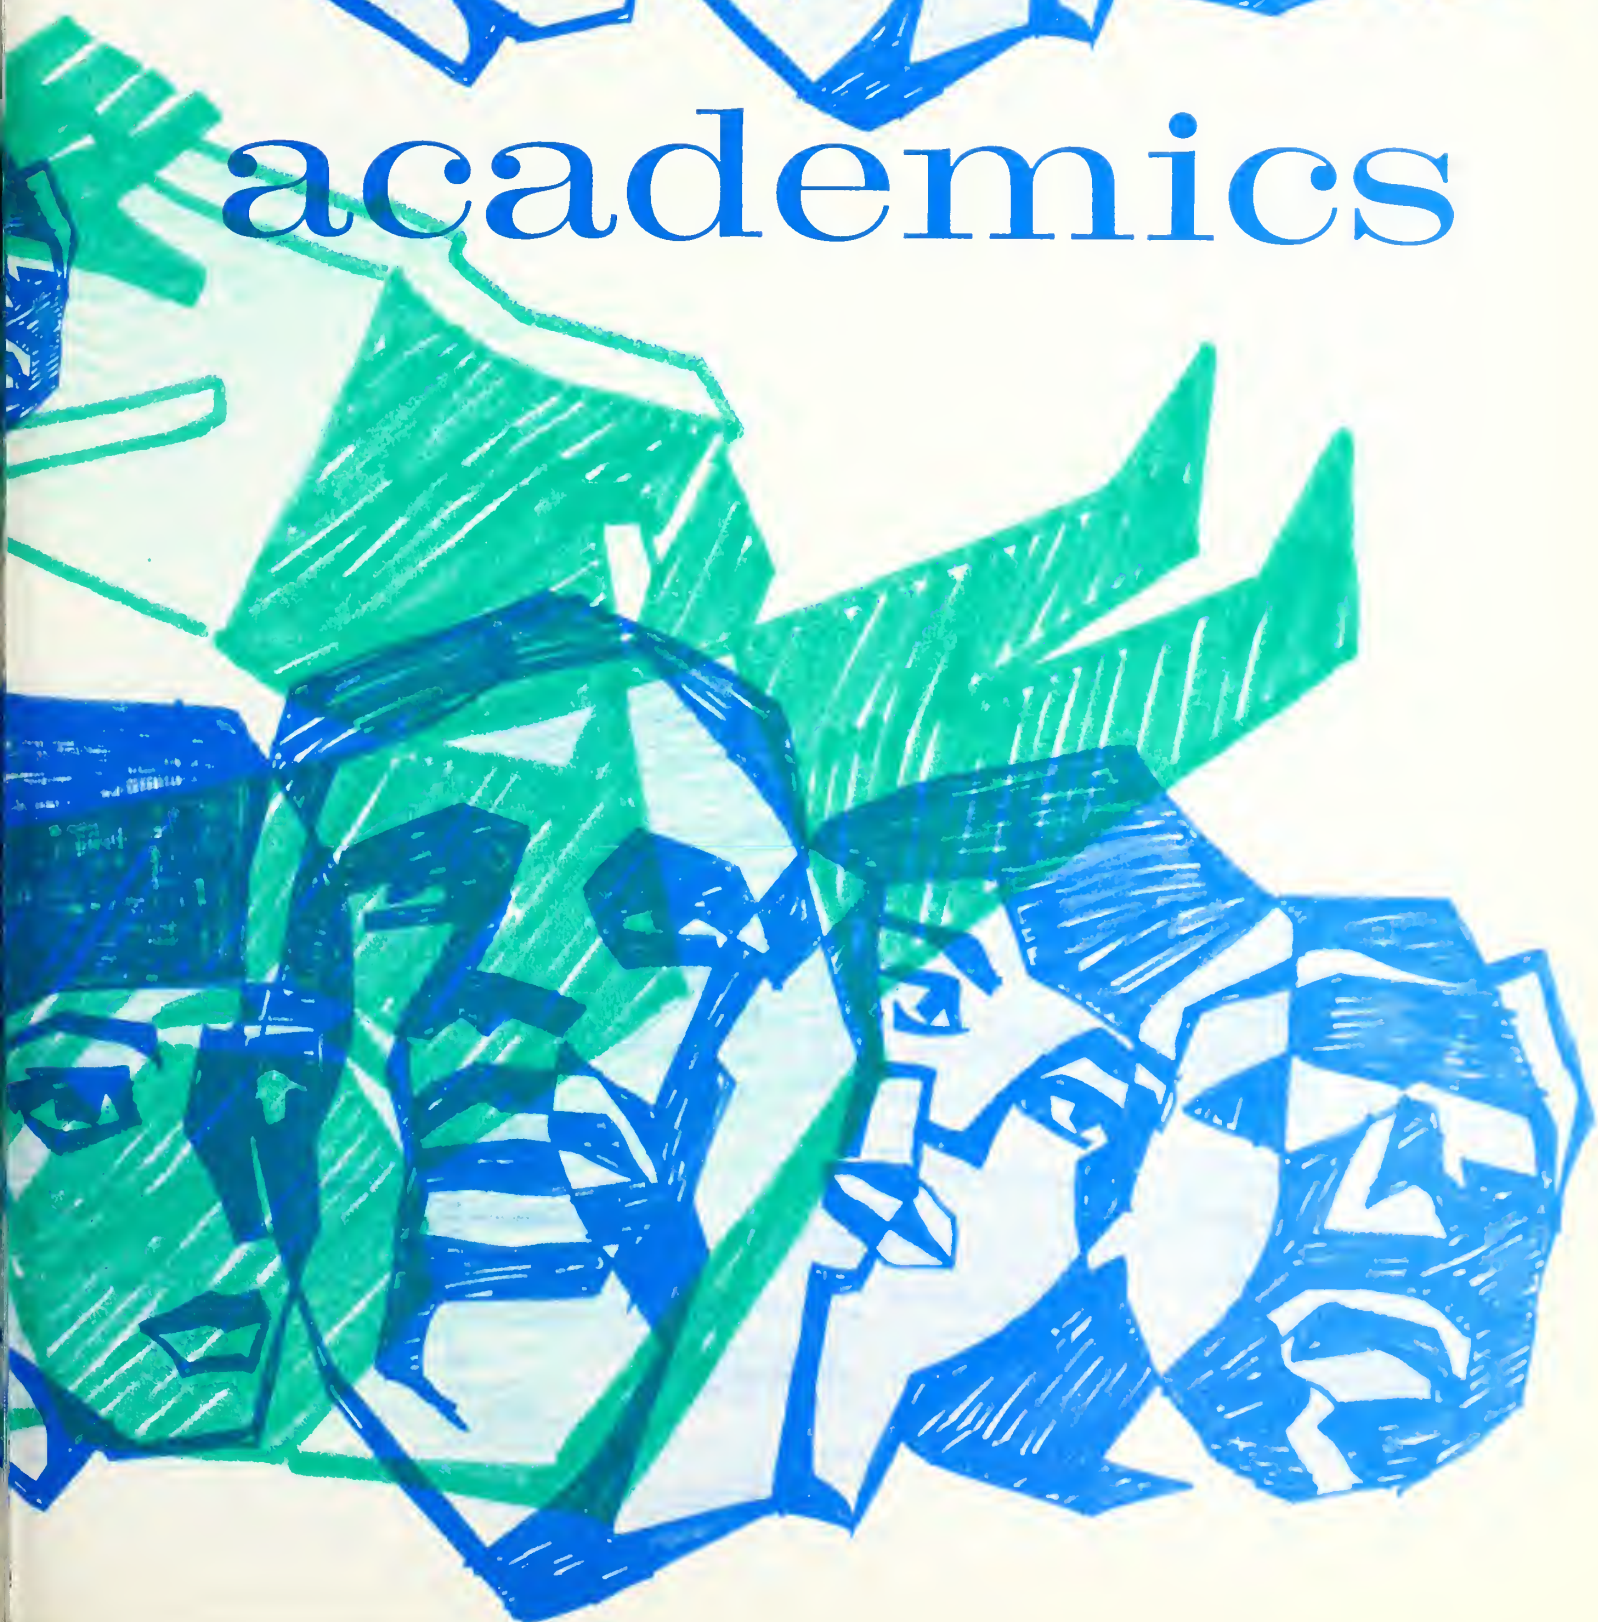

It takes more than strength to break a board as demonstrated by karate students.

Dr. Gary M. Ross gleans information that he will use in his western civilization lecture for the day.

The miracle of life unfolds
 As man seeks himself in a thousand mirrors.
 He sees reflected his many faces—
 the scientist, concentrated, intrigued with molecules of DNA,
 the politician, ardent, concerned with war,
 the draft and integration,
 the philosopher, contemplative,
 discovering Self, Being, Truth, the writer, creative, expressing life through well-wrought words—
 And each face blends into a whole, uniquely appropriating the bounds of knowledge, from which emerges the face of Man Thinking.

Administration

The new face in the administration this year is that of Tracy R. Teele, who has taken over responsibilities for student affairs from Dean of Students, William G. Nelson, who is on academic leave. Dean Teele has promoted the idea of more student-administration communication by acting as liaison between the ASLSC officers and members of the administration.

As registrar, Dr. Lee has initiated a new program for determining grade point averages. Special credit points are now given for plus and minus grades.

Richard B. Lewis, Ph.D.
Academic Dean

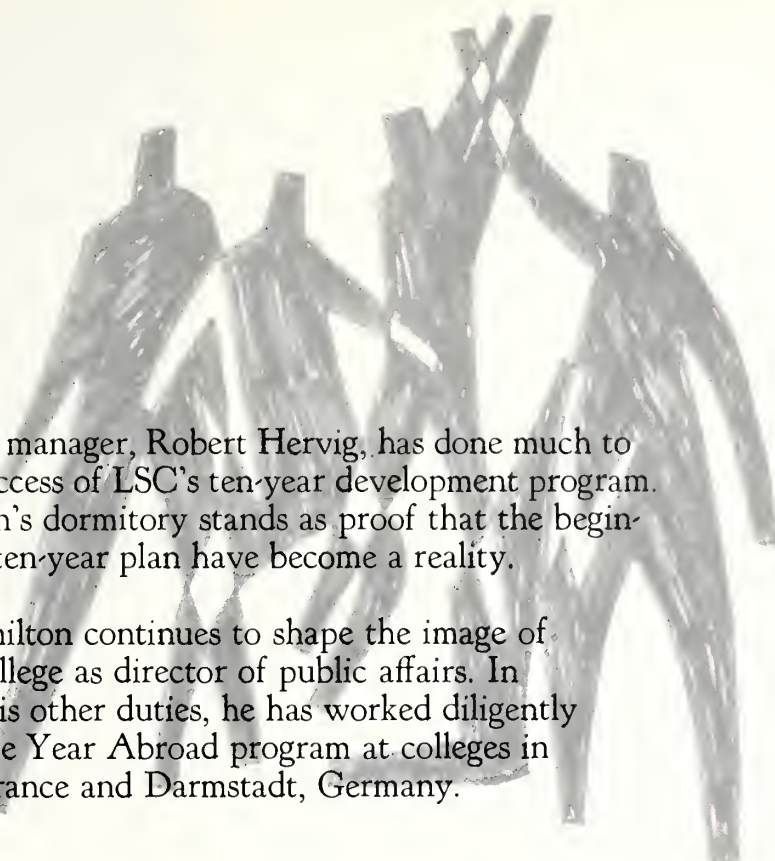

Robert H. Hervig, M.B.A.
Business Manager

Robert L. Osmunson, M.A.
Director of Admissions and Recruitment

Richard B. Lewis, the academic dean, has been instrumental in introducing new and varied programs of study to the La Sierra College curriculum. The new nursing program, which offers an associate of arts degree to all who graduate, is an example of the ever-widening range of scholastic courses now being offered at the college.

No one is more aware of the growing pains LSC is experiencing at the present time than Robert L. Osmunson whose admissions office accepted a record 2,027 students to LSC in September.

The business manager, Robert Hervig, has done much to insure the success of LSC's ten-year development program. The new men's dormitory stands as proof that the beginnings of the ten-year plan have become a reality.

John T. Hamilton continues to shape the image of La Sierra College as director of public affairs. In addition to his other duties, he has worked diligently to develop the Year Abroad program at colleges in Collonges, France and Darmstadt, Germany.

Laurene Jenkins, B.A.
Assistant Dean of Women

Dean of men in Calkins Hall this year is Mr. Richard Orrison, who in addition to being dean, is also working toward his doctorate in college student personnel. New to LSC is Mr. Lyle Botimer working as assistant dean of men. Dean Botimer formerly worked as boys' dean at Rio Lindo Academy. Besides enjoying athletics with the men, Dean Botimer is working on his master's degree in guidance administration at LSC. Mr. Ray Shreve, dean of men in MBK, the dorm for freshman men, has just finished his master's degree in secondary education at California State in Los Angeles.

Vivian E. Smith, M.A.
Dean of Women

Ruth Maschmeyer
Assistant Dean of Women

Mrs. Vivian Smith, dean of women in Angwin Hall, is in her 35th year of educational work, which ranges from teaching kindergarten to being dean of women. Despite her busy schedule, she still finds a spare weekend to go camping, one of her favorite pastimes. Mrs. Laurene Jenkins, assistant dean in Angwin, is in her second year of deanship at LSC and finds it most rewarding. Mrs. Ruth Maschmeyer is the new dean in Gladwyn Hall. Besides being a mother and counselor, she is also a student taking some psychology classes on campus. At exam time she can sympathize completely with her girls.

Agriculture

Employing 100 students, the agriculture department continues to increase its production and improve its quality.

This year the department has 880 head of cattle of which 463 are milking cows. Each cow produces about six gallons of milk per day.

The poultry houses 63,000 birds including 44,000 laying hens.

Its eggs are marketed from La Sierra to Phoenix.

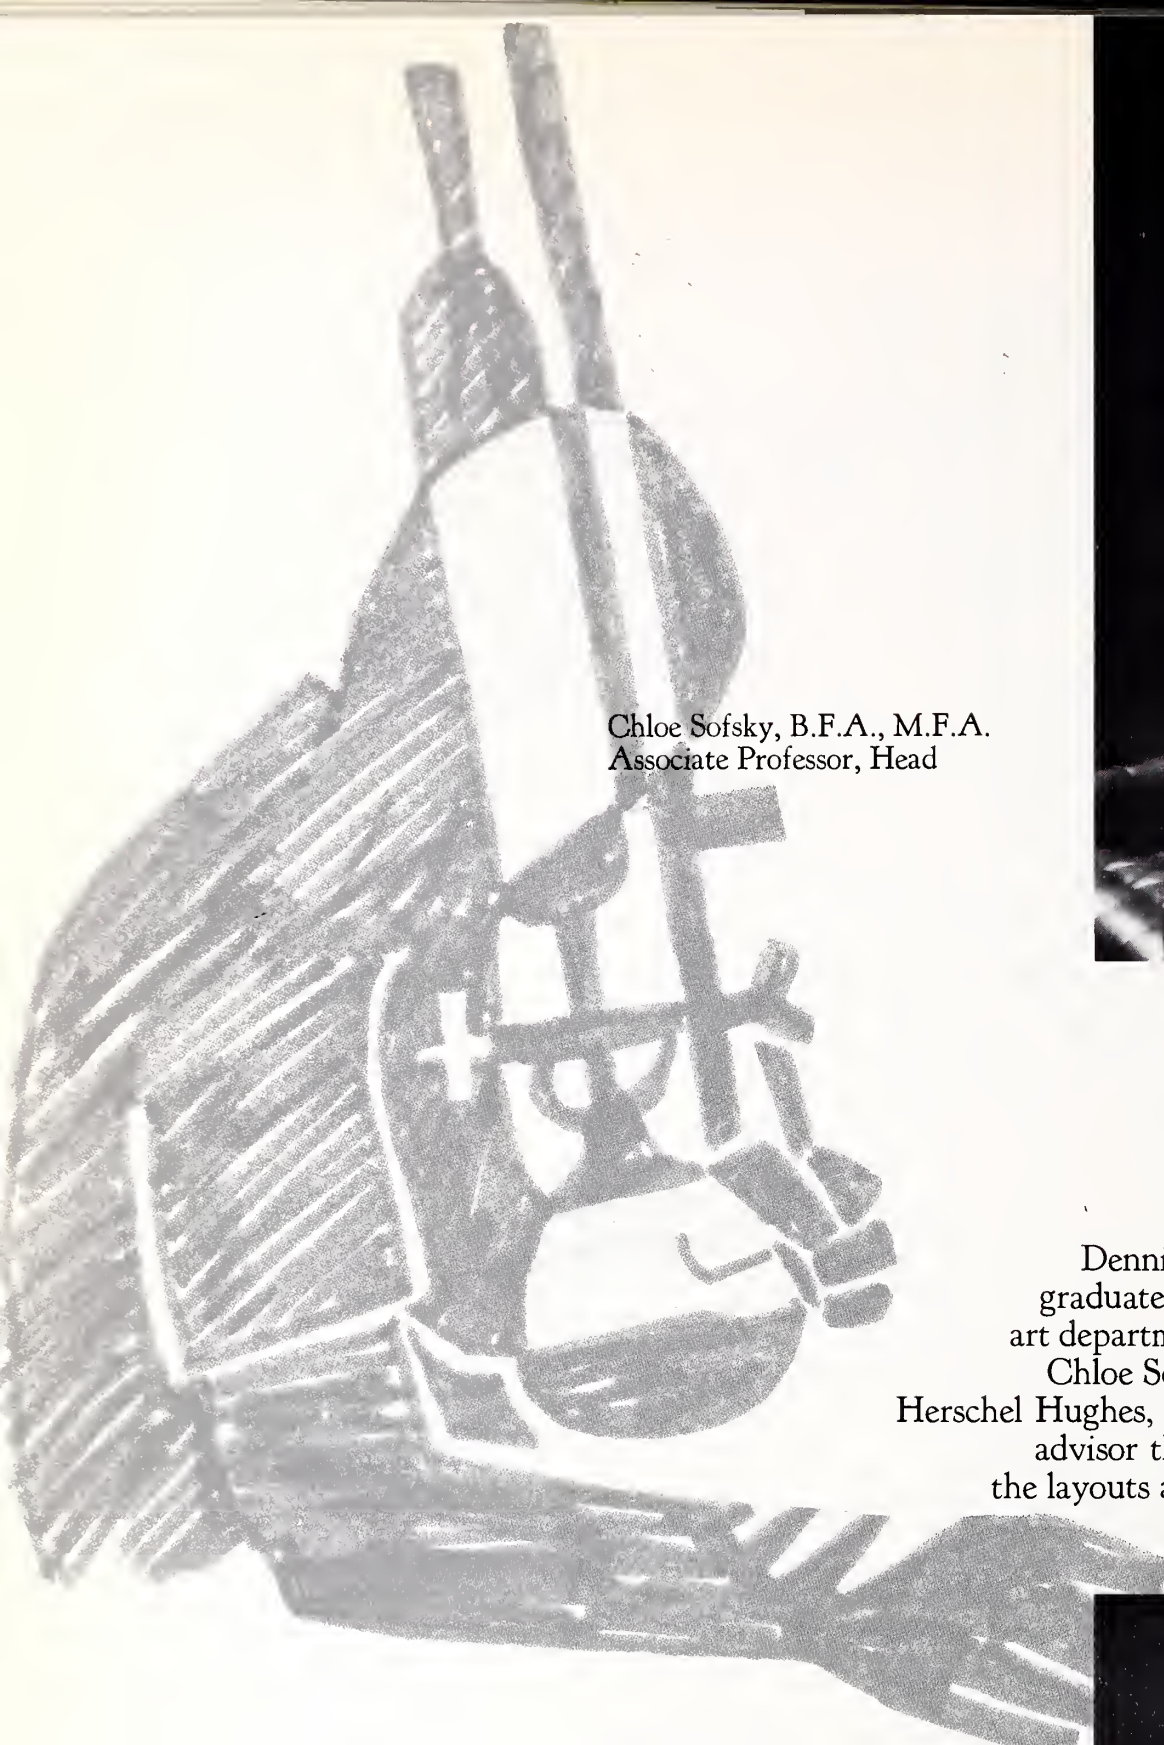

To its previous honors the agriculture department has added more gold ribbons to the many it won at Los Angeles, Riverside, and San Bernardino fairs this past year.

Art

Dennis Wade, a La Sierra College graduate, is the new addition to the art department this year. He joins Mrs.

Chloe Sofsky, department head, and Herschel Hughes, who has worked as Meteor advisor this year, providing many of the layouts and all of the yearbook's art.

Dennis Wade, B.A.
Instructor

Each year the art department sponsors monthly art shows in the campus art gallery, located in the art building. This year they hosted works by Douglas McClellan, Milford Zornes, and Robert Wood, three nationally renowned artists. Local artists: Sabato Fieorillo, Judith Herschler, and Tonie Kasey also had some of their works featured. At the end of the year, Tim Bisel, a senior art major, submitted some of his works for the show. An average of 200 off-campus visitors come each month to see the art shows.

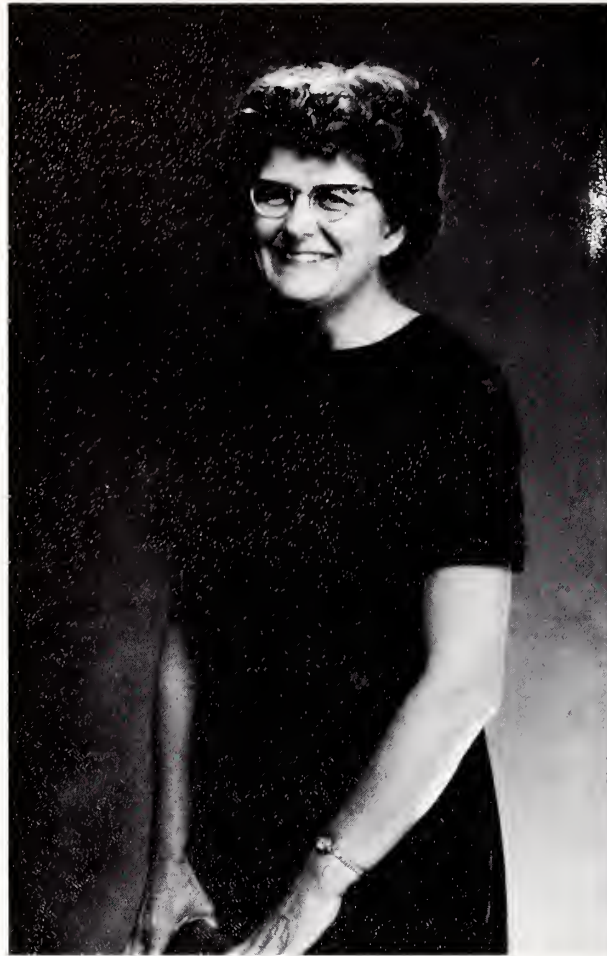

Herschel Hughes, M.A.
Assistant Professor

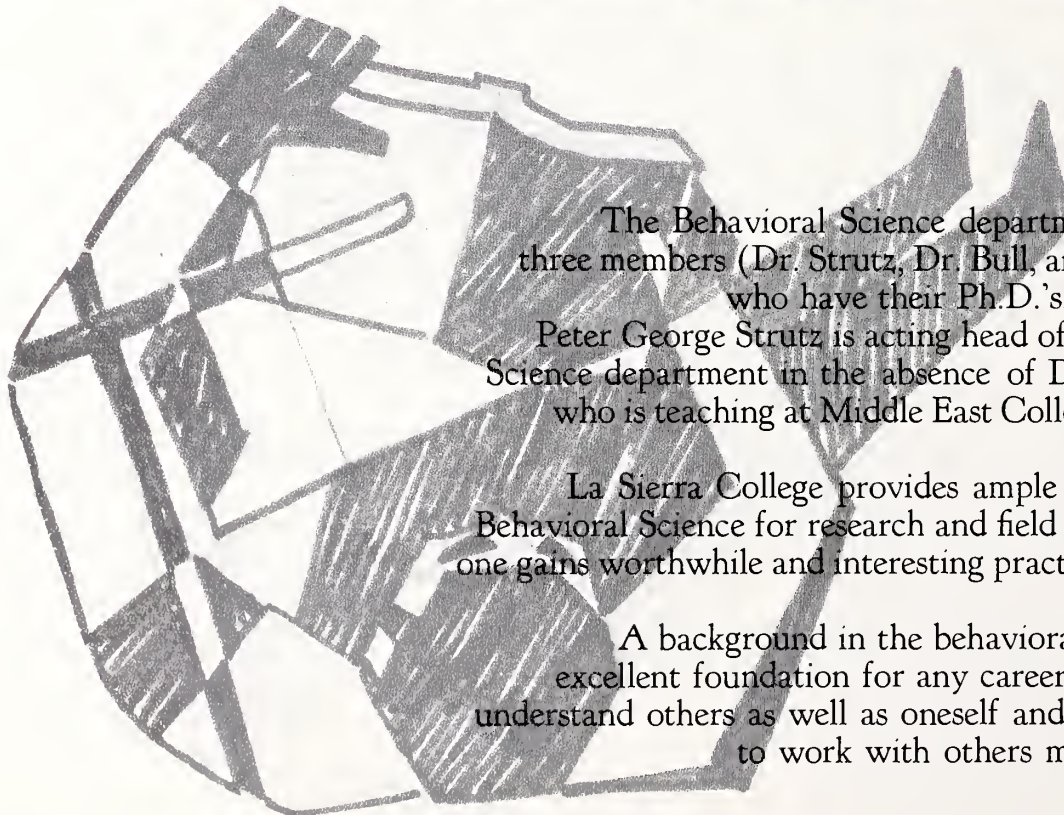

This year the art department entered ten posters in the Zellerbach Paper Corporation Collegiate poster contest. The posters submitted were to portray something relative to the theme "Keep America Beautiful." The posters are judged on a regional basis only, and the winning entries displayed to the nation in a traveling exhibit are ultimately used as billboards. Last year, portraying the theme "See the USA," La Sierra College swept the Southern California regional contest by capturing first, second, third places, and two honorable mentions.

Betty Jean Stirling, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor

Maybel Jensen, M.A.
Professor Emeritus

The Behavioral Science department containing three members (Dr. Strutz, Dr. Bull, and Dr. Stirling) who have their Ph.D.'s, is well staffed.

Peter George Strutz is acting head of the Behavioral Science department in the absence of Dr. Stanley Bull who is teaching at Middle East College in Lebanon.

La Sierra College provides ample opportunity in Behavioral Science for research and field work, in which one gains worthwhile and interesting practical experience.

A background in the behavioral sciences is an excellent foundation for any career. One learns to understand others as well as oneself and thereby learns to work with others more effectively.

Peter George Strutz, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor
Temporary Head

Behavioral Science

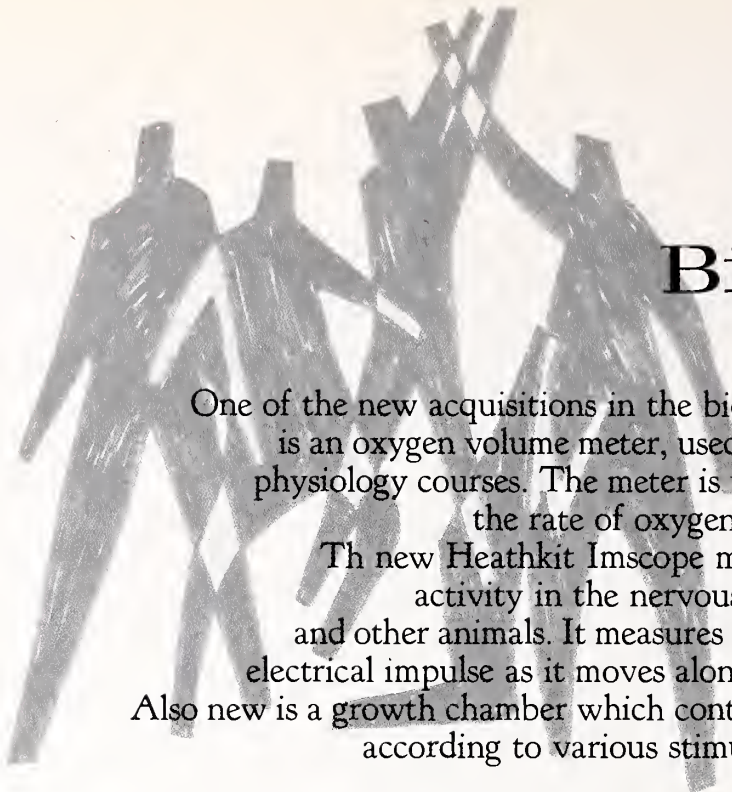

The behavioral science department is now in the process of establishing a social work major which will possibly include field work at Glendale. It is also organizing two new classes in the field of sociology. These are Social Disorganization and Small Groups.

This year several of the behavioral science classes meet at Loma Linda. Among these are abnormal psychology and population.

Biology

One of the new acquisitions in the biology department is an oxygen volume meter, used in upper division physiology courses. The meter is used to determine the rate of oxygen in small animals.

The new Heathkit Imscope measures electrical activity in the nervous systems of frogs and other animals. It measures the strength of an electrical impulse as it moves along the nerve fiber. Also new is a growth chamber which controls plant growth according to various stimulated conditions.

The department offers an associate of arts degree in stenography as well a as master of arts degree in business.

Next year the department hopes to add some data processing courses which would teach students computer programming.

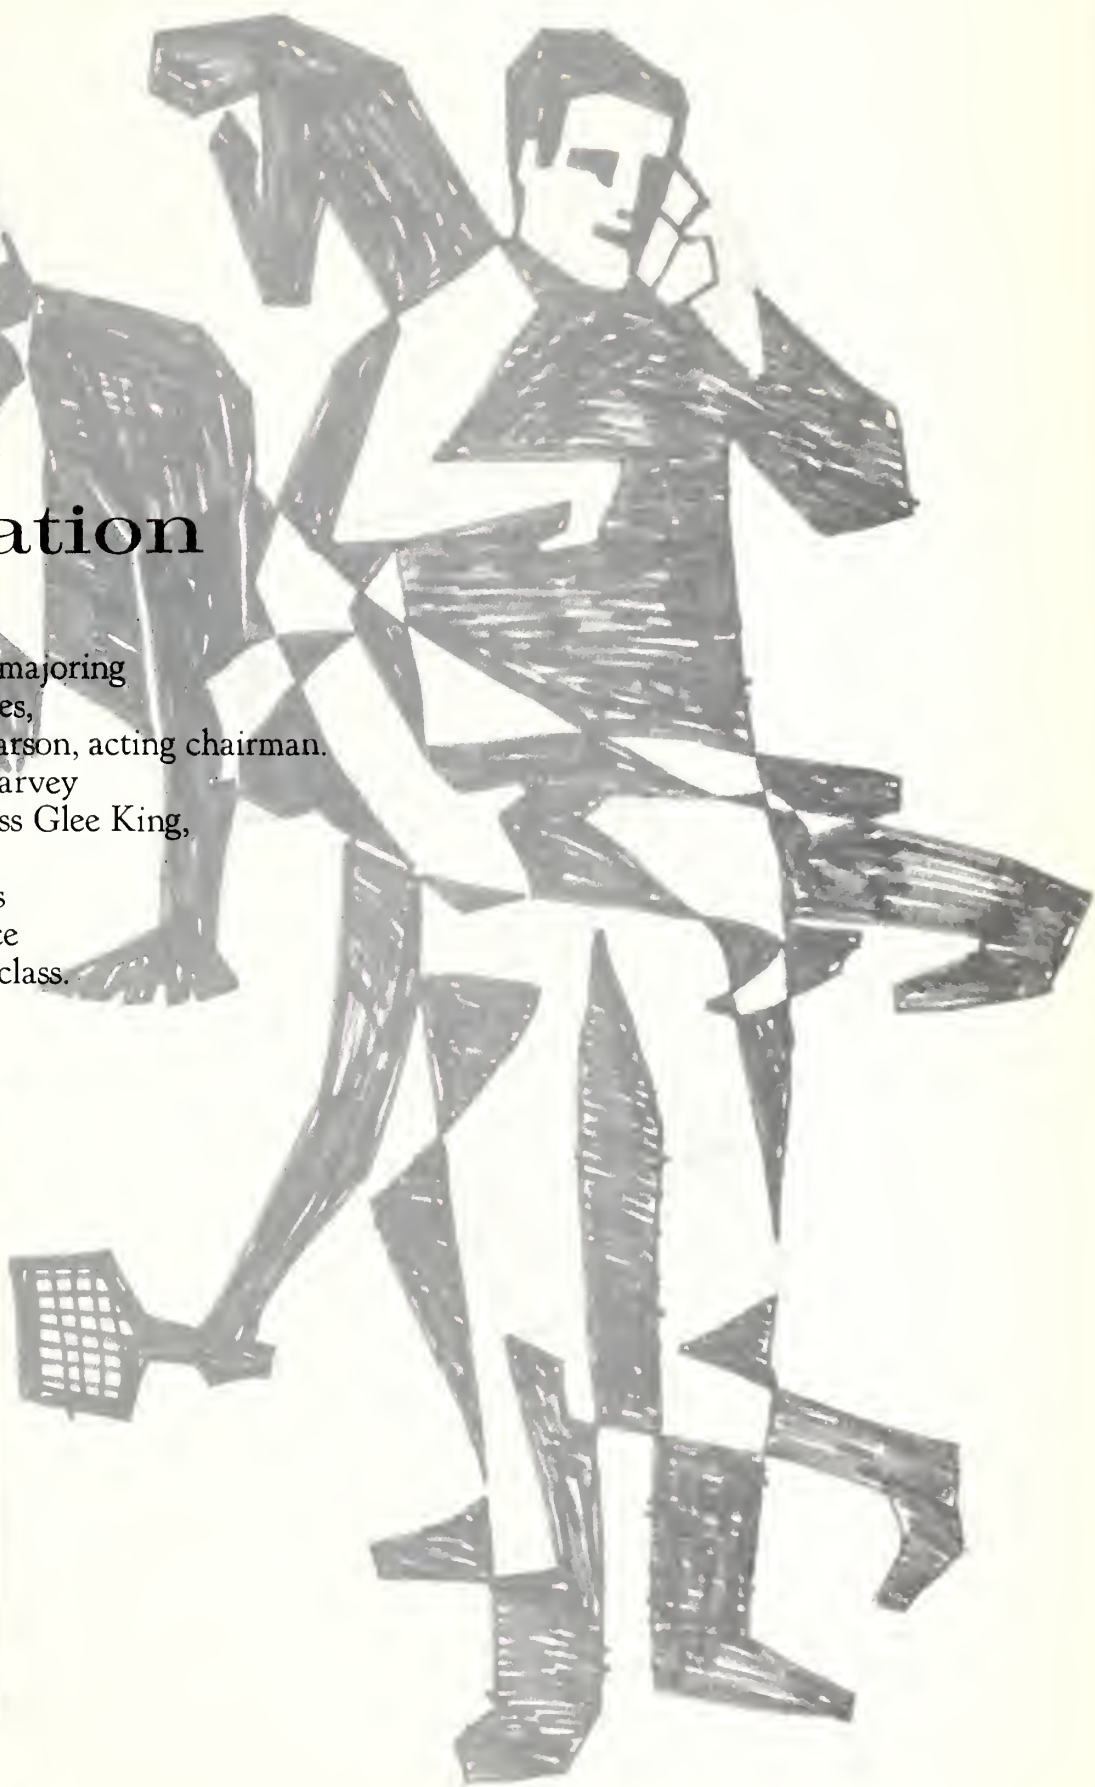

In September, Dr. Ralph Koorennny, who has been on leave to the Ethiopian government at Haile Selassie I University, will return to resume his duties as department chairman.

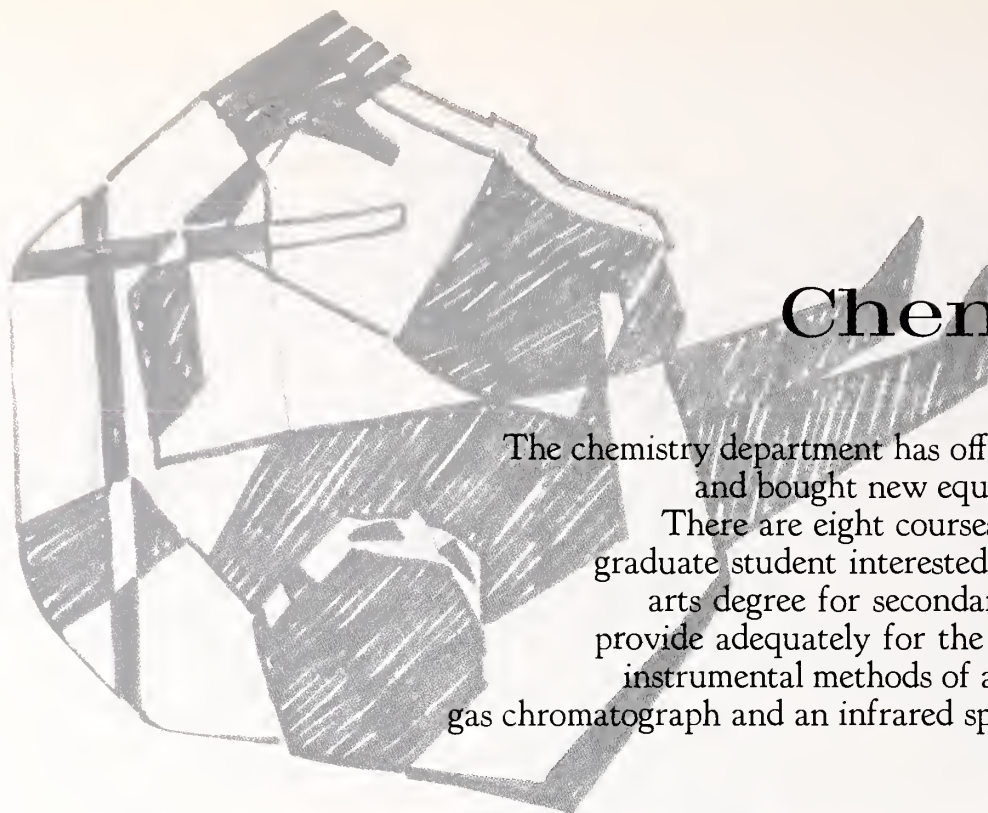

Business and Secretarial Administration

Approximately 170 students are majoring in business and secretarial sciences, under the direction of Richard Larson, acting chairman. Other instructors include Mr. Harvey Caviness, Miss Irene Ortner, Miss Glee King, and six part-time teachers. The graduating class of 1967 contains 30 business and secretarial science majors, more than any previous class.

Richard C. Larson, M.A.
Assistant Professor, Temporary Head

Chemistry

The chemistry department has offered new courses and bought new equipment this year.

There are eight courses available to the graduate student interested in the master of arts degree for secondary education. To provide adequately for the growing class in instrumental methods of analysis, a second gas chromatograph and an infrared spectrophotometer were purchased.

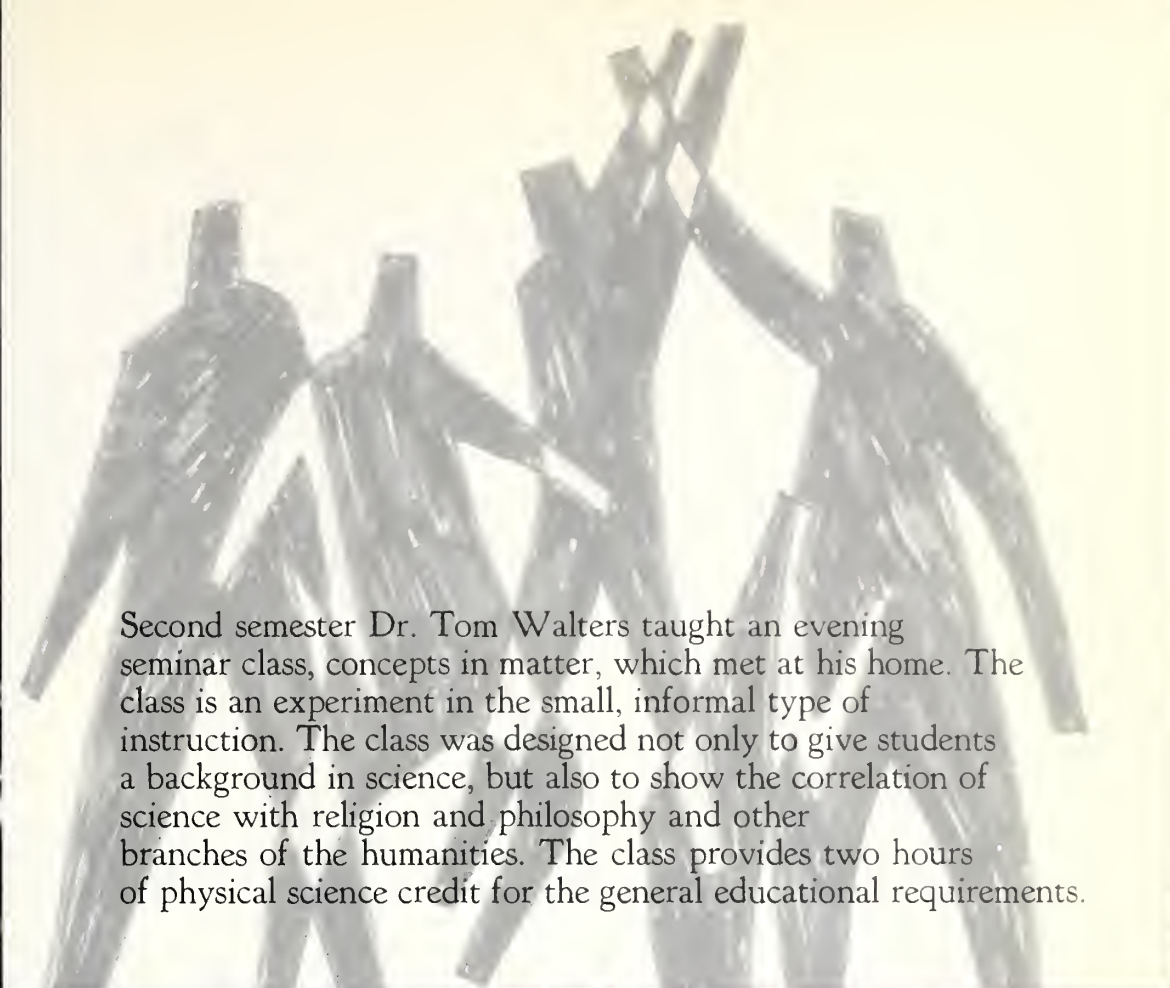

Luella L. Kretschmar, M.S.
Associate Professor

L. W. Botimer, Ph.D.
Professor, Head

Each summer the department offers several classes, and plans for this summer include courses in Chemistry I for the two-year nursing students, quantitative analysis, and organic chemistry.

Dr. Lawrence Botimer, head of the department, also serves as senior class sponsor and sponsor of the aviation club. Mr. Ray Sheldon, associate professor, spends his time away from the lab and classroom as Hiking Club sponsor.

Second semester Dr. Tom Walters taught an evening seminar class, concepts in matter, which met at his home. The class is an experiment in the small, informal type of instruction. The class was designed not only to give students a background in science, but also to show the correlation of science with religion and philosophy and other branches of the humanities. The class provides two hours of physical science credit for the general educational requirements.

The department also sponsors field work in school administration, supervision, and guidance as part of its graduate program.

There is a rapidly expanding graduate program developing on campus which includes more than 200 men and women who are concerned with professional education.

Education

Some of the facilities of the department are the testing lab, which not only serves the LSC campus with personality, aptitude, and other tests, but also administers the college admission tests for the 11 academies in Southern California and Arizona; the curriculum lab, which is new this year and is devoted to administering various tests representing grades 1-12 and other teaching materials of all kinds; and the audio-visual lab, which includes the latest developments in projection equipment.

In a year overshadowed by the war in Vietnam, the Apollo space program and the national budget, American college students showed a phenomenal resurgence of interest in literature and the humanities. The English department kept pace by expanding its offerings and increasing the size of its teaching faculty.

To the department came Miss Patricia Jenkins, a graduate of Atlantic Union College who has done graduate study at the University of California at Riverside with particular emphasis on eighteenth century literature; Mrs. Marlys Owen, who holds an M.A. from the University of Minnesota and has studied at Notre Dame and the University of Redlands; and Mrs. Sharon Smith, who earned B.A. and M.A. degrees at La Sierra College and is presently researching the poetry of Anne Bradstreet.

A popular experimental program was the seminar in English literature conducted by academic dean Richard B. Lewis, who holds a Ph.D. in English from Stanford University. Fifteen juniors and seniors were admitted to the class, which met weekly at the home of Dr. Lewis for informal but in depth discussion of selected works.

In April the colorful literary magazine featuring the poems, essays and short stories of talented student writers from all disciplines was published by the ASLSC with the sponsorship of the English department. Dr. Maude O'Neil, formerly editor of "The Youth's Instructor" in Washington, D.C., was chairman of the publication committee which prepared the thirty-page magazine. The center spread of the literary work featured the published poetry of La Sierra College students as it had appeared in national journals and magazines during the school year.

Best attended departmental social event of the year was the May Day festival. A Maypole, wandering minstrels who plucked guitars and sang Elizabethan inspired melodies, and food booths at which lads and lasses selected such refreshment as mulled cider and hot cross buns lent a sixteenth century flavor. English teachers came dressed in period costumes and students fashioned elaborate hats for themselves at the party. Highlight of this evening was the dramatic performance of a selection from a Shakespearean comedy under the direction of Dr. Margaret Palmer.

Four hundred and fifty freshmen in fourteen sections were exposed to English composition and literature this year. As a result, many students chose to major or minor in English. This year forty-five students at La Sierra College registered as English majors. At the June commencement eight received bachelor's degrees in English, and by the next school year nine were awarded master's degrees.

The head of the history department, Dr. W. J. Airey, known by the students for his subtle humor, conducted a tour of Latin America last summer. He was joined by ten students from La Sierra College. His opponent in the "Republican presidential chances in the 1968 election" debate, fast-talking, enthusiastic Dr. A. H. Baker, is conducting a tour of Russia next summer. Dr. W. M. Landeen continues to introduce students to topics covering western civilization, the Reformation and Western Europe. Strikingly British, Dr. W. C. Mackett is teaching Tudor England, a new course in the history curriculum. Another new history course is U.S. Since 1900 taught by Dr. F. G. Hoyt, who is currently writing a book on the Philippines. New to the staff this year is Dr. G. M. Ross, researcher on Anglo-American diplomacy. Dr. Ross is teaching American diplomatic relations, history of western civilization, and Europe 1815-1914.

Operation is now underway for the new two-story home economics building which is to be completed by January 1, 1968.

On the first floor provisions have been made for an audio-visual room for student teachers, a textiles research laboratory, a lounge for students and visitors, and a foods area. The foods area includes eighteen individual kitchen units, for dining rooms which open up onto an outside patio, an experimental foods sections with an electronic oven, and a special area for animal research in nutrition.

Yvonne E. Sonneland, M.H.E.
Assistant Professor

A student lounge, clothing construction, and millinery areas, and a child development laboratory will be located on the second floor. There will be a special room for home furnishings, which is presently in the clothing lab. The clothing laboratory will have twenty individual units for cutting, sewing, and pressing. The child development laboratory includes an outdoor play-yard and an observation room where both parents and students may observe the children.

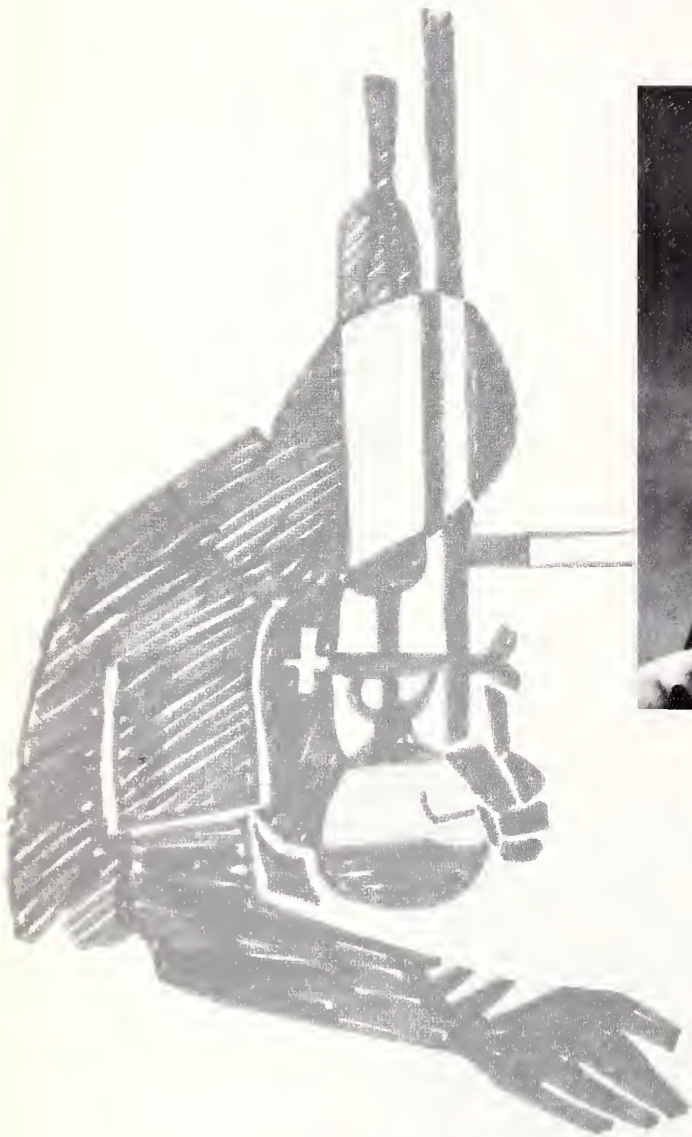

The new building is designed to be time saving and efficient in every way. With all the new facilities in this building the department will be able to offer a strong master's program.

This year new equipment was added to the woodshop.

The new equipment
includes a band saw,
a table saw
and a disc sander.

All this equipment serves to make the woodshop more modern,

Modern Languages

The department always expanding is the language which includes Spanish, French, German, Russian, and Greek. This year three students will receive master's degrees in French, and twelve students are studying toward M.A.'s in this second year of the graduate language program. Three additional professors will join the staff to cope with the expansion. Dr. Magi will be going to Collonges next year as the year abroad adviser.

The first honors club on campus was formed at the end of last school year. The club, Alpha Mu Gamma, admits students who have done outstanding work in their language courses. There are approximately 25 members and several honorary members who are faculty professors.

There will also be thirty practice rooms, choir, band, and orchestra rehearsal rooms, music library and listening room, and classrooms. There will also be three practice organs and two grand pianos available.

Nursing

New to the LSC curriculum is the two-year associate arts degree in nursing. This course is offered in other S.D.A. colleges, but for the first time at LSC. La Sierra College has a regular pre-nursing program in which the student is prepared for further study at Loma Linda University, but to provide for the growing need in the field, the two-year course has been added.

The nursing students alternate between the theoretical and practical hospital training. Their first semester is spent on this campus taking courses in beginning nursing. Then they are transferred to either Paradise Valley Hospital or White Memorial Hospital to become closer related to actual hospital work. They return in their last semester to LSC and finish with comprehensive nursing which deals with mental illnesses. After this they will be able to take their state boards and receive their R.N. degree.

The physics department has initiated a graduate research program in the field of molecular physics in which graduate students do spectroscopic study of simple gases.

The projects have included a theoretical examination of the rotational structure of a single band of sulfur dioxide, an experimental problem studying nickel dioxide gas, and a report of spectroscopic emission and absorption of aluminum chloride gas.

Two classes have been added this year, mathematical methods in physics for the undergraduate, and advanced methods in physics dealing with group theory of molecules for the graduate student in conjunction with the research program.

Dr. Riggs presented a paper entitled, "A Problem in Chemical Physics," at the American Association of Physics Teachers in New York. His paper reported the results of work done by graduate student Eugene Rau and himself. In addition the students and professors of the department have built another spectrograph.

Administrative Secretaries

Administration secretaries are: Mrs. Gene Evers, secretary to the president; Mrs. Marjorie Wisdom, secretary to the business manager; Mrs. Marion Osborn, secretary to the academic dean; and Mrs. Mildred Harrison, secretary to the dean of students.

Eleanor Brandt
Secretary to the treasurer

Answering phone calls, typing letters, scheduling appointments and, in general, keeping their respective bosses happy and operating effectively are the tasks performed efficiently each day by these nine "girl Fridays." However, beyond their daily tasks each has a special job in her department. Mrs. Virginia Lewis acts as secretary for Mr. Hamilton in the public relations department. Besides keeping the alumni address list current, she is responsible for the student affairs calendar and is also a member of the Social Affairs Committee. As secretary for the Community Concert Association in the Riverside area, Mrs. Lewis distributes the concert tickets and handles much of the publicity at the college. Kathryn Woods' job is to work on student recruitment and to process student applications for Elder Osmunson in the admissions department. Mrs. Gene Evers compiles the weekly announcement sheet and the bi-weekly Accent. Mrs. Marion Osborn advises campus men regarding their selective service problems. Editing the senior information booklet is one of Mrs. Mildred Harrison's main duties. Mrs. Marjorie Wisdom is Mr. Hervig's new secretary this year, and Eleanor Brandt serves as secretary for Mr. Melashenko in the business office.

The business office plays an integral part in managing the affairs of 1,681 students from helping some arrange their Education Funds Incorporated contract to paying wages to student employees.

With eight full-time workers and several student employees, the business office comes in contact with every student of the college. It is at this office that one can see long lines: some students to find new jobs, others to pay their tuition before the deadline, and others just to get change for one dollar.

Food Service

The task of feeding over 1,000 hungry dormitory students three times each day has become the responsibility of several new people in the food service department this year. Mrs. Kathleen Ruf as the director of food service and Mr. Vernon Lovelass as head dietician has insured that the food service has been efficient in its second year of operation in the new Commons.

In order to provide an opportunity for students to make suggestions about the food service, a food advisory committee was formed this year with representatives from the four campus dormitories.

Buildings Custodian

The grounds and custodial departments keep LSC clean and attractive-looking. The maintenance of all buildings on campus, landscaping, and caring of plants and shrubbery is done by 150 student employees. The grounds crew landscaped the hill and area around Ambs Hall and the new men's residence hall. The maintenance department keeps a nursery containing over 500 trees which will eventually be planted in various sections of the campus.

The official police force on campus is Campus Security. Directed by Mr. B. J. Cao, the security gives campus protection, regulates parking, and organizes fire drills. Several students are employed by the security department.

Mr. Chuck Toews, assistant superintendent of maintenance; Mrs. Elizabeth Carr, secretary; and Mr. John Clough, superintendent of maintenance and grounds.

Campus Services

This year the health service abandoned the "sick list." Now students must make arrangements directly with their professors when they are sick. This idea was adopted since it had proved successful on many state colleges and universities. Available to sick students are full-time and licensed nurses and doctors. The health service moved in early spring to the home management building.

Religious Clubs

Ushers Club is in its second year of service to the college for religious and secular programs. This club provides the dignity and decorum needed at Friday evening vespers, community concerts, and other concerts or programs. The club consists of approximately 50 members who alternate their services.

Keith Knoche, a freshman, won first prize in the annual temperance oratorical contest. His speech emphasized the hazards of smoking and was presented in a very creative and appealing way. The contest, sponsored by the American Temperance Society Club, also provides opportunity for contestants to enter jingle, essay and poster contests.

Student participation in literature evangelism has increased. Much of the increased spirit can be attributed to the Colporteur Club which strives to promote enthusiasm for witnessing through the sale of denominational books. The club has many social functions at which students gather informally to enjoy Christian fellowship.

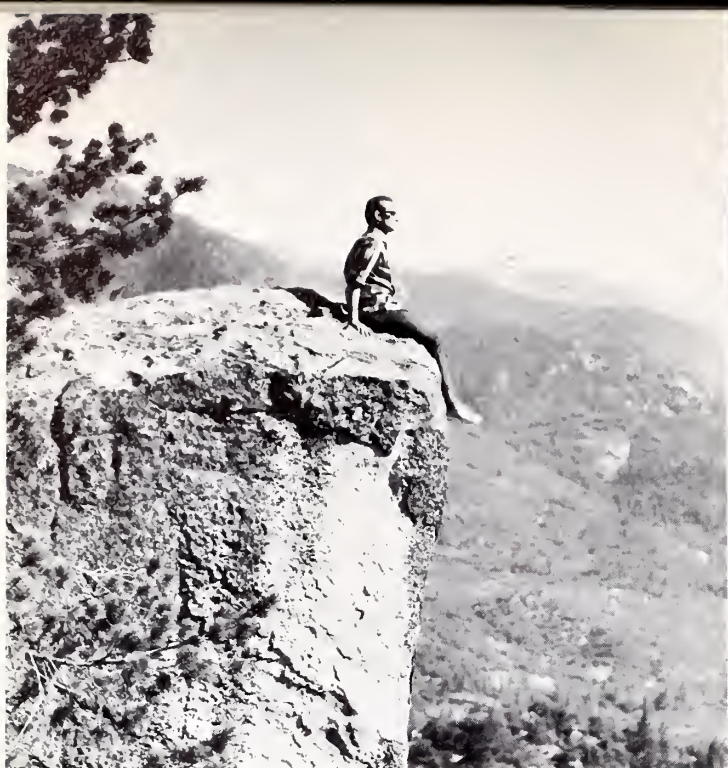

Colporteur Club officers: Duane Lemons, service corps representative; Charlotte Sample, secretary; Ken Pierson, pastor; Steve Lehman, publicity; Peggy Womack, social director; Bill Aldrich, president; Mr. Roscoe Swan, sponsor; and David Kimbrough, treasurer. Bill Gravestock, vice president is not shown.

The Usher's Club officers: Chuck Velasquez, president; Helen Lopez and Marian Brown, head usherettes; and Gary Goeringer and Don Minesinger, head ushers.

Temperance Club officers: Ted Calkins, treasurer; Robyn Marchal, 1st semester secretary; Joyce Vanderkolk, 2nd semester secretary; Diane Allred, 2nd semester program chairman; Barbara Armster, publicity; George Ching, membership chairman; Bev Wood, contest chairman; Dr. Palmer, sponsor; Cheryl Miller, 1st semester program chairman; Lonnie Melashenko, president; and Curtis Hesse, general vice president.

ASLSC

Retreat

Friday night vespers under the direction of Bud Steen, consisted of a lively discussion on "prayer" in which almost everyone participated. The meeting was followed by prayer bands and singing. The retreat featured pastor John Duge, a La Sierre College graduate currently serving at the Lynwood Church, as guest speaker. Despite the chilly weather everyone received a new sense of spiritual direction.

Saturday night's activities at the retreat included a broom hockey game, a volleyball game, and the film, "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain."

This year's ASLSC Retreat was held on October 14, 15, and 16 in Pine Springs Ranch, the junior camp operated by the Southeastern California Conference in the San Jacinto Mountains. Over two hundred students attended the retreat, which was sponsored by the Collegiate Christian League under the leadership of Roland Bainer.

Weeks of Religious Emphasis

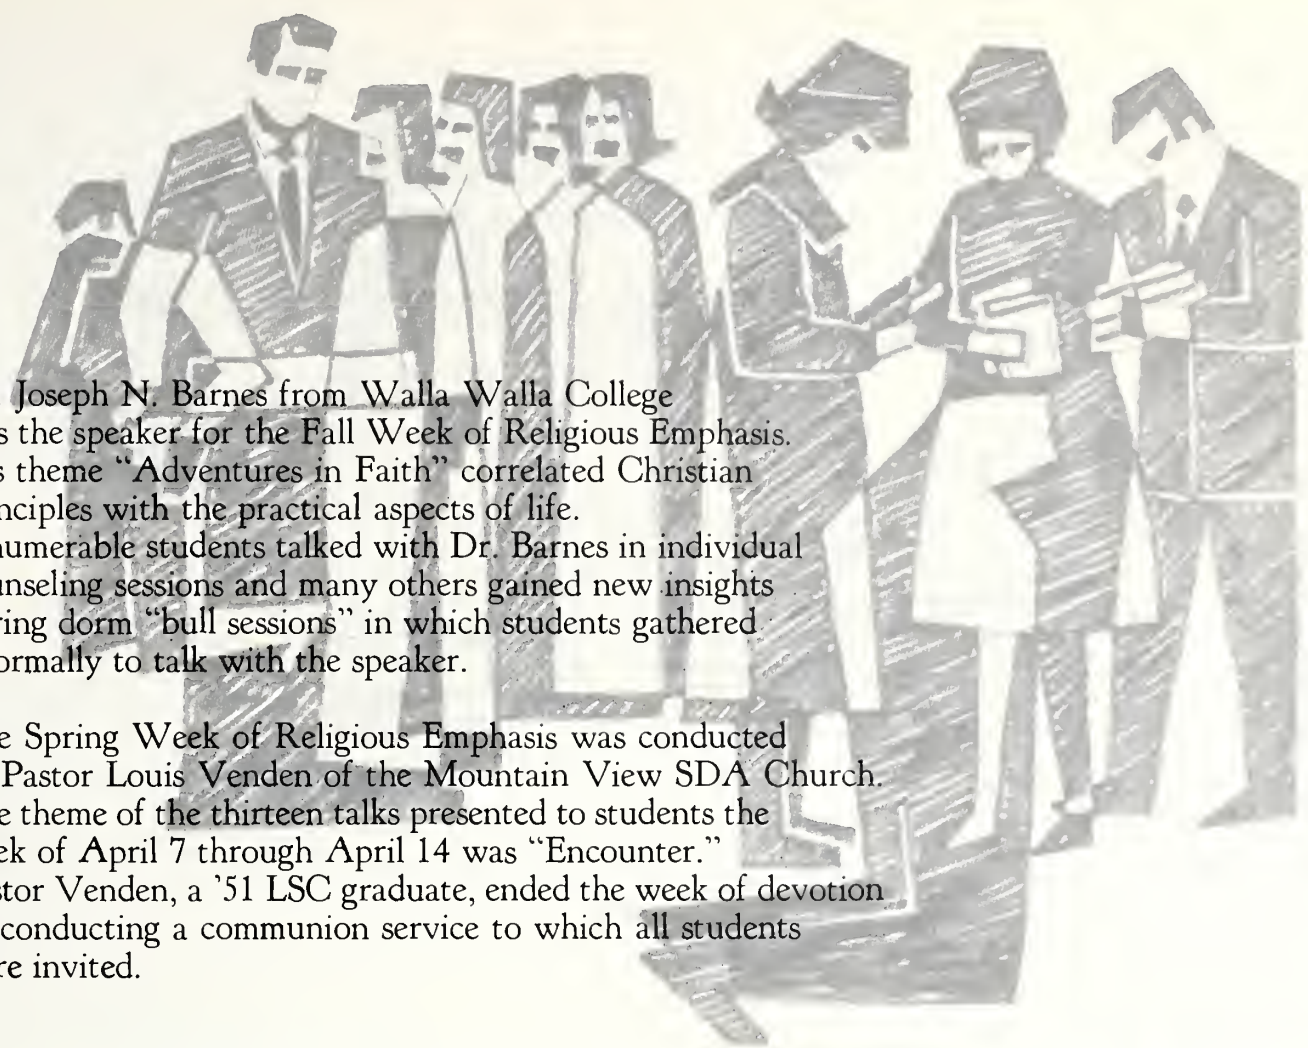

Joseph N. Barnes, Fall Week of Prayer
speaker

Louis Venden, Spring Week of Prayer speaker

The Student Week of Devotion exerts a great influence on LSC's spiritual life. During the week, student speakers give short talks to their fellow classmates. "Let a Man Examine Himself" was the theme of this year's devotion. Tantalizing titles included "The Friend," "The Wall," "The Outside," "Jerusalem, Jerusalem."

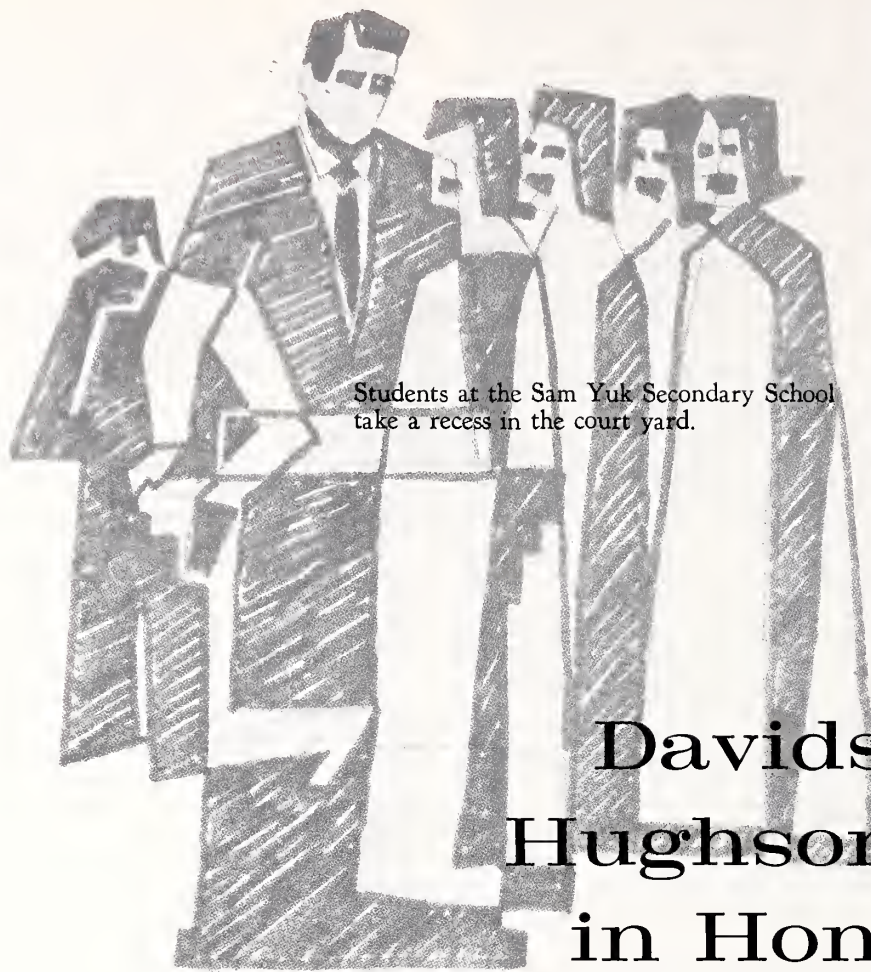

Student Week of Prayer speakers are: Joni Ehrler, Gene Hallsted, Richard Harding, Jackie Nichols, platform chairman; Dean Nelson, and Tom Dybdahl. Not shown. Jon Butler and Paul Meier.

Dr. Joseph N. Barnes from Walla Walla College was the speaker for the Fall Week of Religious Emphasis. His theme "Adventures in Faith" correlated Christian principles with the practical aspects of life. Innumerable students talked with Dr. Barnes in individual counseling sessions and many others gained new insights during dorm "bull sessions" in which students gathered informally to talk with the speaker.

The Spring Week of Religious Emphasis was conducted by Pastor Louis Venden of the Mountain View SDA Church. The theme of the thirteen talks presented to students the week of April 7 through April 14 was "Encounter." Pastor Venden, a '51 LSC graduate, ended the week of devotion by conducting a communion service to which all students were invited.

The student missionary project met with greater success than ever before when $2,000 was raised to send missionaries to Puerto Rico for the school year 1967-68. At present, Dick Davidson and John Hughson are the student missionaries in Sam Yuk Middle School in Hong Kong. Hong Kong has been the recipient of La Sierra College student missionaries for the last four years. This year, when the CCL campaign was launched, students were presented with the idea of sponsoring missionaries to another country, and Puerto Rico was chosen.

Koinonia

Retreat

The Koinonia retreat was held this year at Cedar Falls Camp, which is operated by the Southern California Conference, on October 7-9.

Guest speakers included Elder Walde and Elder Roy A. Anderson.

Koinonia, a club for students planning to become ministers, sponsors a retreat annually in the hope that such an activity will promote greater fellowship among ministerial students and also a greater devotion to God.

Joedy Melashenko, Keith Knoche, Gary Mattison, and Lonnie Melashenko sing for a Sabbath service as Ron Walden, Stan Aufdemburg, and Dan Rathbun look on.

First semester Sabbath School officers are: Carolyn Ruddle and Connie Pender, seated with Jerry Lien, sponsor, and Joe Taylor.

Sabbath School

The Sabbath School department is active in creating the spiritual emphasis at LSC. Students are chosen as superintendents who are in charge of planning the college Sabbath School. Special efforts are made by the superintendents to plan pertinent, vital programs. Second semester saw the initiation of sixteen small Sabbath School classes each taught by a student. This plan was adopted in hopes of stimulating individual study of the Sabbath School lesson thus enabling discussion and dialogue in small classes, as opposed to the previous method of general lesson study taught by one teacher.

Second semester Sabbath School officers are: Dick Donaldson, Jerry Lien, sponsor; Janet Wheeler, Lauraine Larsen, and George Ching.

Collegiate Christian League officers are: Ralph Neidigh, vice president; Bill Jones, public relations; Larry Hansen, treasurer; Ron Fritz, vice president; Roland Bainer, president; Jackie Nichols, vice president; and Helen Lopez, secretary.

Koinonia, the club for religion and theology students, features a guest speaker every Friday evening in Angwin chapel. The speakers give prospective ministerial students practical suggestions pertaining to their work in service for Christ. The club also initiated the publishing of a monthly newsletter edited by Monte Sahlin. The newsletter contains pertinent articles, reports, and schedules of events.

Koinonia officers are: Tim Berry, treasurer; Stan Aufdemberg, president; George Ching, pastor; and Richard Hergert, secretary.

CCL and Koinonia

The Collegiate Christian League is an integral part of religious activities and contributes to the Christian student's spiritual life. This year the CCL, under the leadership of Roland Bainer, has extended its program to include weekly church services geared directly to the college student. The college church service takes the place of the regular 8:30 service with students participating in the program, which features guest speakers discussing topics pertinent to the college student.

Among the various branches of CCL are: Moments of Meditation, a midweek worship where students give inspirational talks; Dimension, a discussion group on Sabbath afternoons with visiting speakers; singing bands; program teams; and Friday evening vesper programs.

Foreign Missions Weekend

The Missions Club was formed to create a renewed interest in foreign mission work. The highlight of the year's activities is Missions Emphasis week when returned missionaries gather on campus to relate experiences from all parts of the world. This year Elder Edwin A. Gibbs, associate secretary of the General Conference, was the guest speaker. During the weekend discussions were held on mission service, and films were shown on the conditions in various foreign fields.

CCL Sends Three Student Missionaries

For the first time in its history La Sierra College sent out three student missionaries. Under the coordination of the Collegiate Christian League, Dan Rathbun was chosen to be LSC's first student missionary to Colombia. Joining the teaching staff of Colombia-Venezuelan College, he taught French, English, and Music. In the spring CCL chose Dick Duerksen and Larry Crane to be the 1967-68 student missionaries from LSC to Puerto Rico. They were assigned to serve as assistant chaplains at the hospital and do evangelistic work in outlying villages.

Candlelight Concert

Features Bach Oratorio

This year, College Hall was the new setting of the annual Christmas Candlelight Concert. Choir I, Choir II, the Loma Linda University Choir, and the La Sierra College Orchestra combined to present Bach's Christmas Oratorio on December 9, 1966. The program was presented under the direction of Moses Chalmers. The program was preceded by sacred numbers performed alternately by the Freshman Singers and the Chamber Singers.

The same program was also presented on December 2, 1966 at Loma Linda University Church under the direction of Pat Hicks, minister of music.

The ASLSC

The official organ of student activities is the ASLSC which functions completely under student leadership. Each term students run for offices from president of the ASLSC to senator-at-large. In addition to playing an integral part in student relations, the officers shoulder responsibilities which round out their liberal education.

Paul Meier
Vice President

Joni Ehrler
Social activities director

Town Hall meetings provide an opportunity for students to air their complaints, discuss their observations and voice suggestions as to how their government should be run. Some of the activities the ASLSC sponsors are Saturday night parties, picnics, a moonlight cruise, a talent festival and this year a backwards banquet—to which the girls invited the fellows.

Student Speaker's Chair was allotted money from the treasury this year to obtain high quality speakers discussing current events and international achievements. The student-faculty committee, another branch of the ASLSC, is presided over by the president of the student body and consists of representatives from the dorms, village and faculty. This body does not have the legislative power of the senate, but it can make direct recommendations which are often adopted. A Food Advisory Committee was formed to get student recommendations about the food service.

Social Affairs Committee members are Chuck Sandefur, secretary; Mr. Jack Hartley, Elder Harold Fagal, chairman; Mrs. Julia Pearce, and Mrs. Virginia Lewis.

Elections Board members are Gordon Seasely, Mrs. Laurene Jenkins, Phil Lowe, Sandra Mayhew, Dr. Gary Ross, and Bud Steen, chairman.

SAC, or Student Affairs Committee, plans many Saturday night functions. Charles Sandefur, the student member, works with five faculty members to provide entertainment throughout the school year. Activities ranged from an evening on the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway to a Halloween party.

The Elections Board supervises all ASLSC elections. Its duties include reviewing qualifications of candidates, insuring the right number of candidates, and publicizing and promoting elections. The board consists of one representative from each student class.

The Student Forum was organized this year in order to obtain additional guest speakers on campus. Under the direction of Jonathan Airey the Student Forum was able to attract such speakers as Max Rafferty, California Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Ivy Baker Priest, state treasurer for California.

Israeli consul, Moshe Yegar, addresses the students concerning the "Present Israeli-Arab Crisis in the Near East" for a student forum program.

Student Forum Committee members Bill Emmerson, Jonathan Airey, and Leonard Ramey.

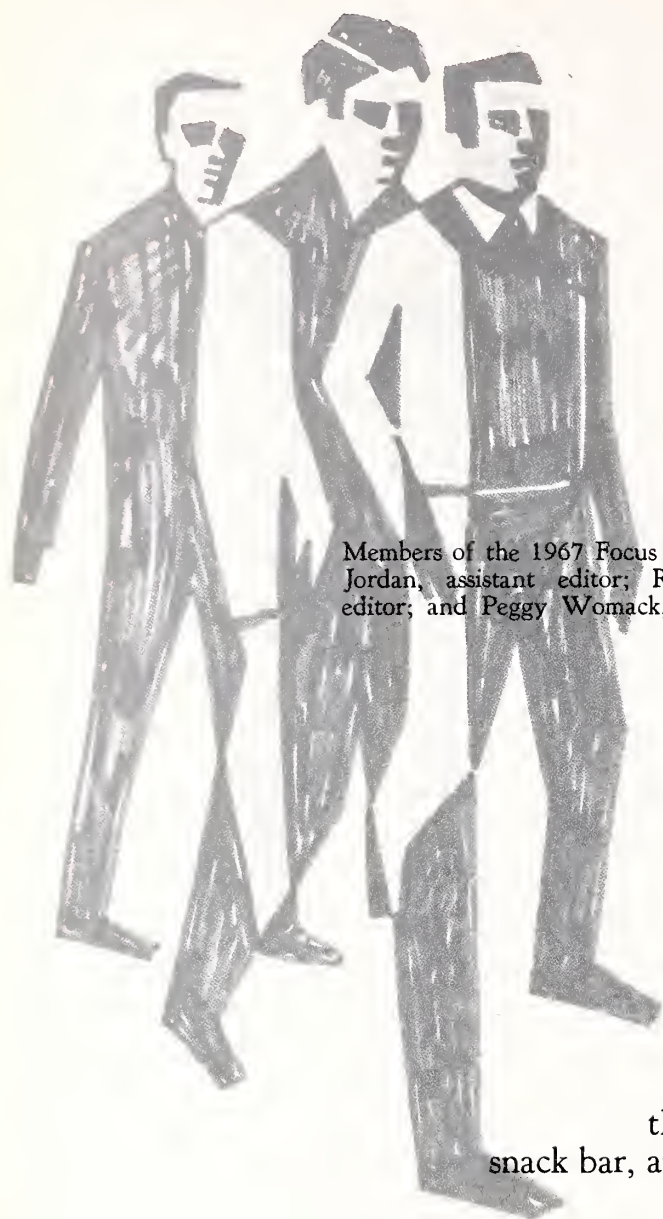

ASLSC Sponsors Two New Organizations

Food Advisory Board members are: Mr. Vernon Lovelass, Albert Lowe, Mr. Paul Damazo, Patricia Wagner, Chuck Boice, C. J. Hindman, chairman; Carolyn Ruddle, Bill Jones, Miss Pat Maze, Susan Markle, and Mrs. Kathleen Ruf.

The Food Advisory Committee was organized this year under the direction of C. J. Hindman and Roland Perez.

The committee which was made up of representatives from each of the four campus dorms, acted on suggestions made by students about the food service. The committee was sponsored by the ASLSC in the hope that it would be able to act as a liaison committee between the students and directors of the food service.

Members of the 1967 Focus staff are: Rita Jordan, assistant editor; Russell Potter, editor; and Peggy Womack, secretary.

To maintain the ordered but relaxed atmosphere of the student center is the task of the student center committee. Each evening a host or hostess is present in the center to insure a smoothly-run TV and game room, snack bar, and lounge. The committee is headed by Dieta Hennig.

Members of the Student Center Committee: Helen Lopez, Dieta Hennig, C. J. Hindman, Stan Aufdemburg, chairman, and Marilyn Bergman.

Leonard Ramey, Mickey Lawson, chairman, and Bill Aldrich of the Freshman Orientation Committee prepare some plates for the freshman eating contest.

Focus has become a popular booklet among prospective students of LSC. The publication, which has an attractive cover in full color, contains student comment about various club activities, educational possibilities and the different facets of student government at LSC. The booklet is edited and produced completely by students.

Service Corps Commission members: Leonard Willet, Richard Harding, Helen Lopez, Bill Aldrich, chairman, and Cheryl Miller.

Members of the Development Committee: Jim Stoup, Linda Taylor, JoAnn Mazat, Russell Potter, chairman, Peggy Womack, and Rita Jordan.

A good example of student concern for others is the Service Corps. Through this organization, students donate their time to participate in programs which are presented at rehabilitation centers, rest homes, and juvenile homes.

The Development Committee will be especially remembered by visitors to LSC, for this committee conducts tours, tells of the development, and promotes the congenial spirit of La Sierra College. The members sport powder-blue blazers and can be seen on College Days, Alumni Day and other school sponsored visitation days.

Lonnie Melashenko photographs student during registration.

Inside Dope staff members include: Nikki Tomlin, Thonda Benderman, business manager; Robyn Marchal, editor; and Don Minesinger, associate editor.

Inside Dope

The publication of the Inside Dope is looked forward to, for this little booklet with the faces of all the students is one of the most important factors in helping students get acquainted.

The picture of each student, his class, his major and his address are the vital statistics.

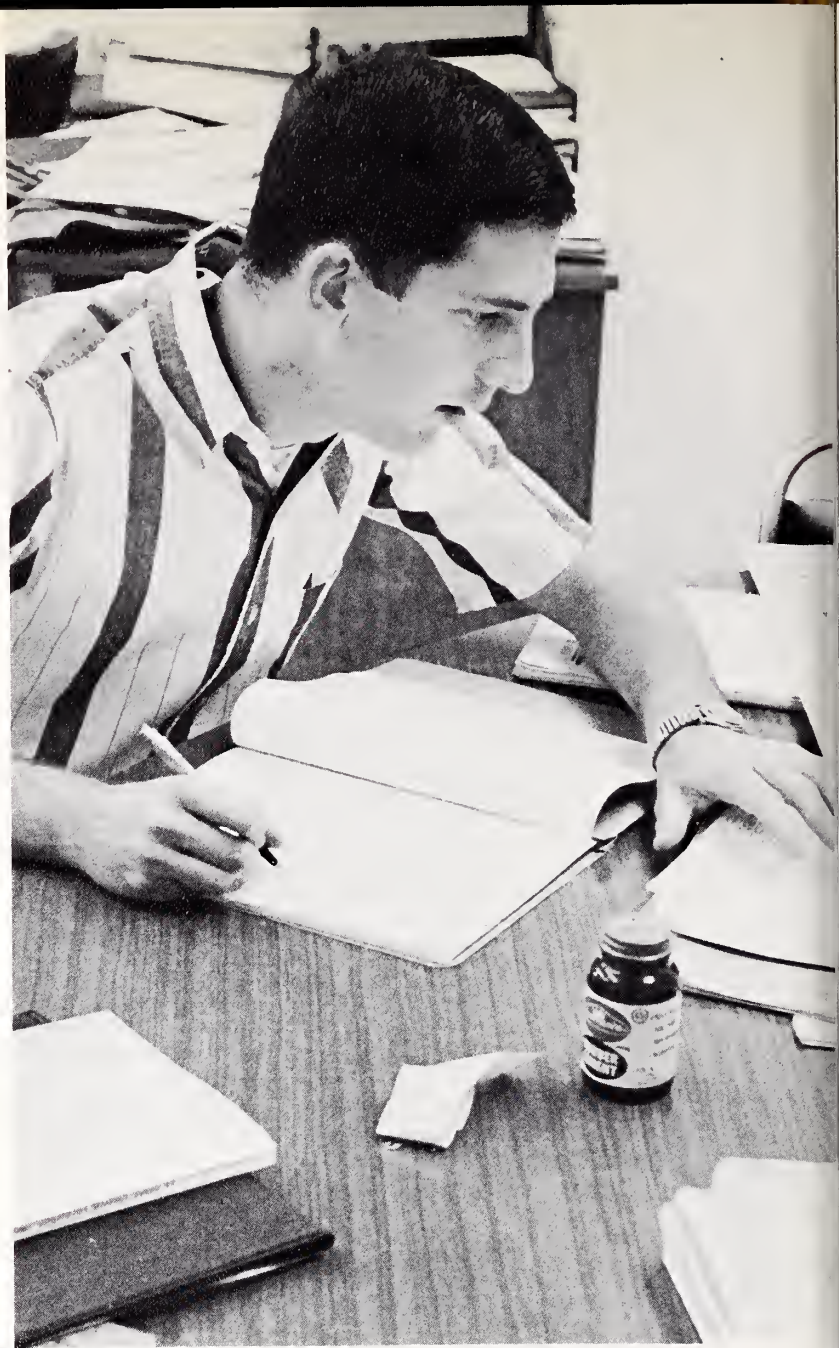

Robyn Marchal edited this year's ID entitled, "Step in the Inside Dope."

An insert with pictures of new students was distributed second semester.

Those who helped lay out the Inside Dope included: Gary Eggers, Marilyn Eggers, Tom Mitts, and Joyce Vanderkolk.

Larry Thomas, photographer, focuses camera for the next shot.

Criterion editor, Tom Dybdahl, works on copy.

Feature writers, John Butler and C. J. Hindman, confer.

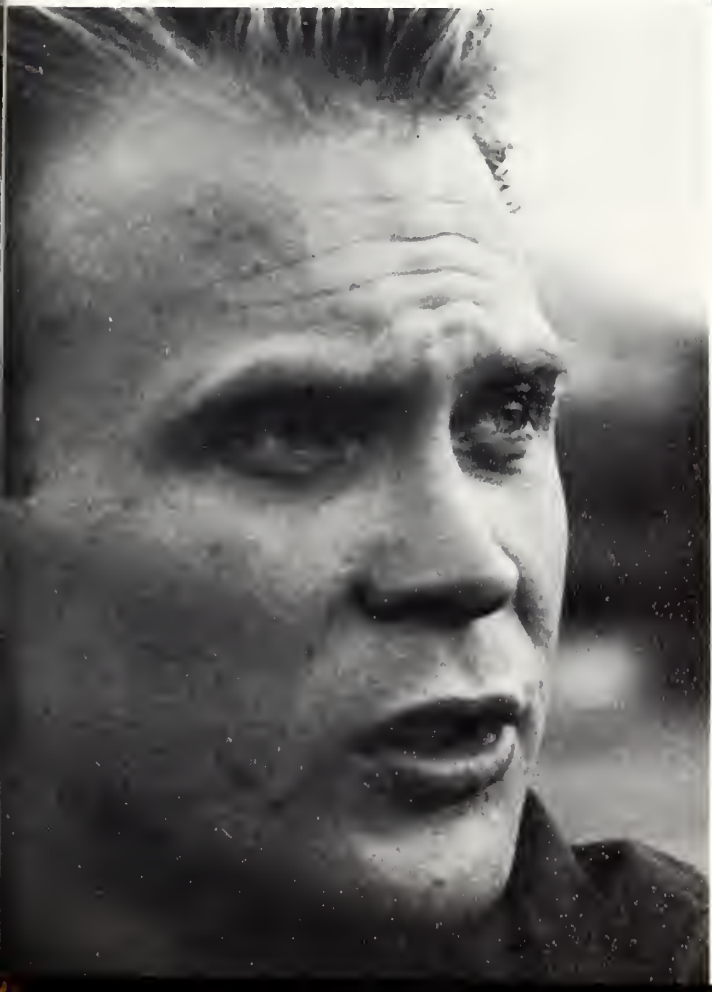

Criterion

The Criterion is the official spokesman for LSC students. This year the school paper has expanded its feature columns to include an "Adventism, Is It Obsolete?" column in which students and faculty members discussed the doctrines of the SDA church and how they apply to our present-day problems. For the first time in the history of the "Criter" two candidates were running for the position of editor-in-chief for the school year 1967-68. Usually this office has had one candidate running unopposed.

Linda Nottingham solicits Buddy Steen and Ray Giddings for Criterion opinion poll answers.

Members of the Criterion staff are: Bill Jones, business manager; Roger Davenport, associate editor; Tom Dybdahl, editor; Peggy Hanson, news editor; and Pat Wagner, circulation manager.

Each year students look forward to receiving their Meteors, which capture in pictures the highlights of the school year. The theme of the 1967 Meteor is "Faces"—faces of the college crowd, individually and as groups, studying, playing and meditating. Efforts were made to expand the sports section to include more activity pictures. Also for the first time the whole introductory section of the yearbook is in color.

Choirs I and II under the direction of Moses Chalmers presented Bach's Christmas Oratorio on campus and at Loma Linda University. Choir II consists of upperclassmen who tour and present programs at churches in southern California. Choir I, under the direction of Joann Robbins, consists entirely of freshmen. This group also has various student directors. Both choirs provide music for the church at La Sierra Church.

Freshman Singers and Choir I

In the spring the LSC Chamber Singers toured Northern California. An unplanned highlight occurred in Sacramento when after they had sung a short concert in the Capitol rotunda they met Governor Ronald Reagan, who lauded their performance. They were warmly received and were taken on a tour of the Capitol building. The group also performed at Pacific Union College.

Freshmen Singers is a select group from Choir I which performs numbers written especially for the small chorale. The Freshmen Singers is under the direction of Miss Joann Robbins.

Band

One of the highlights remembered by members of LSC's Concert Band is the extended band trip to Arizona.

The band performed at churches in the state and also at Thunderbird Academy. The Collegians are select instrumentalists who generally play light selections arranged for a smaller band. The Collegians toured academies in the Southern and Southeastern California Conferences.

The La Sierra College Concert Band under the direction of Eugene Nash

One of the outstanding musical groups on campus is the College Orchestra under the direction of Professor Alfred Walters. The orchestra performed in the Christmas Candlelight program and gave its own annual concert in College Hall. Prof. Walters made a five-country European concert tour in the spring, performing in Paris, Brussels, Geneva, Darmstadt and London. He was accompanied on the piano by Dr. Perry Beach who is presently advisor to the Year Abroad program in Collonges and Darmstadt.

MBK Officers

Mu Beta Kappa, men's club for dorm students, plays an important part in providing interesting entertainment for the men. There are official MBK meetings every week at which time outstanding speakers from the sports world talk to the men, surfing and skiing movies are shown, and a pizza feed enjoyed. Second semester the men went to a Lakers basketball game in the L.A. Sports Arena. MBK also participated with SPK to provide a Valentine's party.

MBK club officers for first semester: Dick Hebbel, treasurer; John Jones, secretary; Richard Harding, president; and Roy Lokna, vice president. Not shown are Dave Nelson, sergeant-at-arms, and Chuck Sandefur, chaplain.

Boys' club officers for second semester: Tim Berry, pastor; Allen Padgett, sergeant-at-arms; Dick Donaldson, president; Grant Sadler, treasurer; and Mike Conner, vice president.

Second semester SPK officers: Lauraine Larsen, chaplain; Janet Ordelheide, Gladwyn representative; Norma Munson, president; Jeni Spoo, treasurer; Judy Hoffman, vice president; Vivian Hakimian, senator; and Carolyn Murphy, secretary.

SPK Officers

Among the activities planned for SPK members during the first semester were a mother-daughter banquet, a fashion show, a Hawaiian luau, a Christmas party for orphans, and an all-male talent program. The girls' club also raised seventy dollars in one night to sponsor Um Sook Yung, a Korean orphan girl.

Early in the second semester, 40 girls went to Hollywood to appear on a TV quiz program, "Everybody's Talking." There was also a joint MBK-SPK variety program for Valentine's Day. The outstanding event of the second semester was a Father-daughter day at Dodger Stadium. Approximately 200 girls and their fathers enjoyed the battle between the Dodgers and the Giants.

Girls' club officers for first semester: Paulette Blount, secretary; Linda Knutsen, president; Nikki Tomlin, parliamentarian; Dieta Hennig, vice president; Lily Shen, chaplain; and Mary Orr, treasurer.

Mother-Daughter Banquet

Six hundred mothers and daughters attended the Sigma Phi Kappa Mother-Daughter Banquet held on December 4. The theme of the banquet was "The Twelve Days of Christmas."

Entertainment for the evening was provided by guest soloist Mary Esther Nicola, guest speaker Mrs. Annabel Neufeld, the La Sierra College string ensemble, Joanie Hoatson and Carolyn Roth.

The banquet was coordinated by Linda Knutsen, president of Sigma Phi Kappa. Dieta Hennig, vice president of SPK, was mistress of ceremonies for the evening.

LaVonne Pease greets Joan Gregorius and her mother at the door.

Adrian Selfa serves the main course to a daughter and mother.

Tamara Said and her mother have their picture taken before leaving the banquet.

Mary-Esther Nicola from San Diego presents a medley of light opera songs.

Mrs. Anne Knutsen, speaking on behalf of all the mothers, thanks the SPK club for inviting them to the banquet.

Hawaiian Luau

On September 29 the girls' club sponsored a Hawaiian luau by Angwin Hall pool. Entertainment for the evening was provided by the Hawaiian Club. Following the program fresh fruit, cookies, and punch were served to the 400 girls who attended the event.

Sigma Phi Kappa members gather around Angwin pool for their first outdoor meeting.

Cyndy Chung does the hula as Calvin Maka sings.

Keith Knoche, Gary Mattison, Jim Pimental, and Grant Sadler sing "Blue Hawaii."

Home Economics Club officers: Susan Rees, president; Sharon Wenter, vice president; Rita Jordan, secretary; Jenice Gale, treasurer; and Ruby Shiroma, service corps representative.

German Club officers: Dr. Magi, sponsor; Anne Comstock, secretary; Steve Mallory, president.

French Club officers: La Vonne Pease, president; Molly Nicolas, vice president; Carolyn Olson, secretary; Derald Rochat, publicity; Dr. Hilts, sponsor; and Julie Jensen, treasurer.

Foreign Students Club officers: Vivian Hakimian, president; Salvador Wong, vice president; Martha Delapava, treasurer; Dr. Andrew Nelson, sponsor, and Isabel de la Torre, secretary.

Departmental Clubs

Education Day is one of the outstanding events sponsored by the Professional Education Club. Many educators come on campus to meet with prospective teachers to discuss their plans in educational fields. Other events the club sponsored were a film, "My Laboratory of Life," telling of Luana Trout, teacher of the year 1964, and Dr. Provonsha from the religion department of Loma Linda University speaking on brainwashing. The club changed its name from Teachers of Tomorrow and also revised its constitution.

Professional Education Club officers: Nikki Tomlin, secretary; Lary Lawson, president; Jenice Gale, first vice president; Patricia Wagner, senator; Linda Ledington, treasurer; and Luana Rumpel, second vice president.

Hawaiian Club officers: John Hata, boys' treasurer; Jim Pimental, program chairman; Moses Chalmers, sponsor; Susie Robinson, publicity secretary; Aaron Yamada, president; Cyndy Chung, secretary; Gary Mattison, parliamentarian; and Gary Smith, club representative.

Scuba Club officers: Mickey Sheppy, vice president; Don Goley, president; and Lonna Crane, secretary.

Outdoor Clubs

Members of the Heprec Club enjoyed a Lakers-76ers basketball game in March. The club functions for physical education majors and all those interested in sports. During the winter, club members spent a weekend at Camp Cedar Falls. It also coordinates the Intramural Banquet at which leading teams and players are awarded special recognition.

Heprec Club officers: Judy Bowers, secretary; Coach Schnieder, sponsor; Janine Turner, vice president; Coach Hammerslough, sponsor; Terry Gibbon, public relations; and Myron Wareham, president.

Aviation Club officers: Don Williams, vice president; Jeni Spoo, secretary; Ron Rosenquist, treasurer; Herb Poulson, rule secretary; and Don Goley, president.

The Scuba Diving Club, newly formed this year, helps interested students develop their skills in this field.

The club has taken several trips, including one to Catalina Island. Interest in forming the club sprang from the physical education class offered in scuba diving.

A field trip to Palm Desert was one of the excursions enjoyed by members of the Aviation Club.

The club is open to anyone interested in aviation and is not restricted to those with pilot's licenses only.

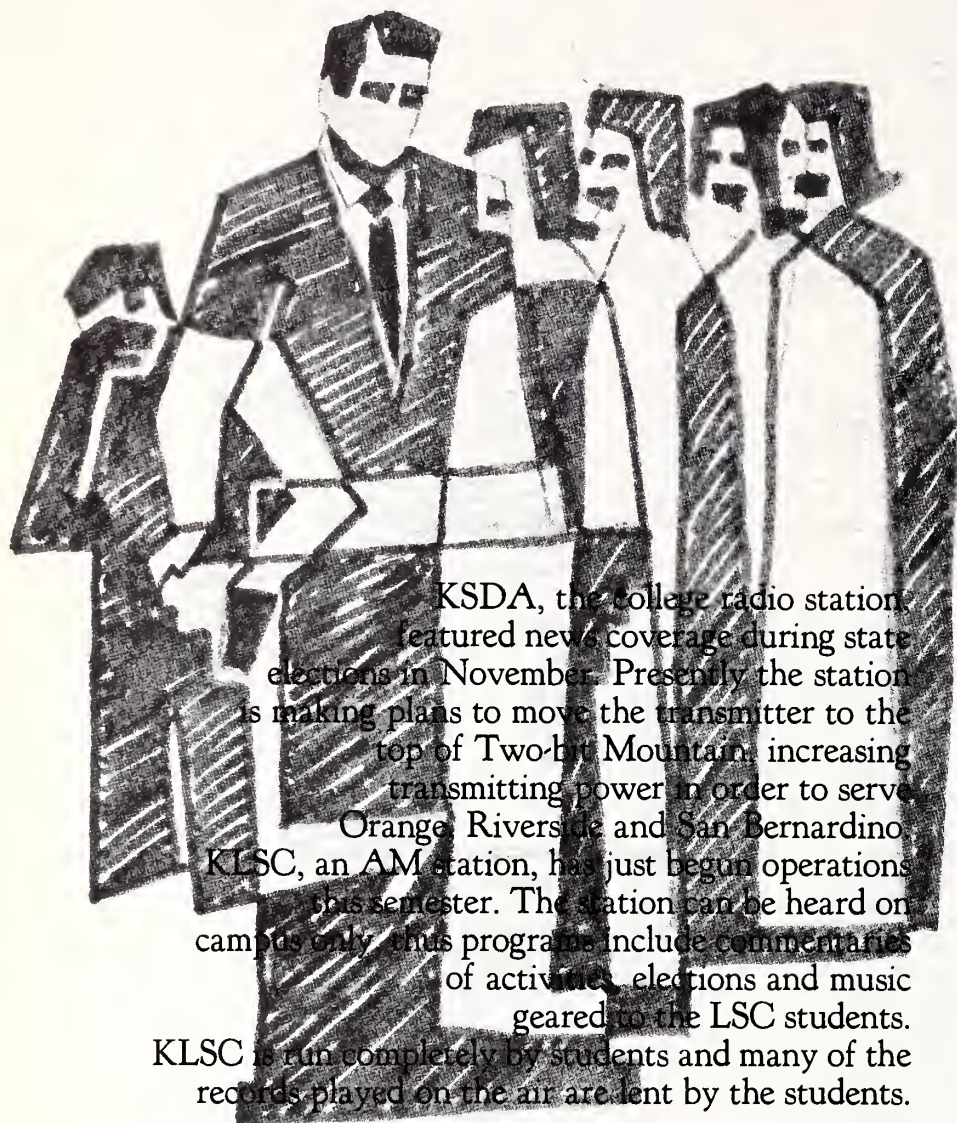

Agriculture Club officers: Ralph Wood, treasurer; Ellis Howard, president; Shirley Ledington, secretary; Bob Ledington, public relations; and Herbert Polk, sponsor.

Hiking Club officers: Mr. Raymond Sheldon, sponsor; Gordon Philips, president; Dennis Miller, treasurer; Sandie Mayhew, secretary; Walt Lancaster, vice president; and Wilfred Nations, public relations.

The Agriculture Club provides information for future agriculturists by inviting guest speakers to talk on current problems in farming, dairying and similarly related fields. The club also has meetings for social purposes where members can become better acquainted.

A weekend trip to Mt. San Gorgonio was enjoyed by Hiking Club members. The more ambitious members hiked to the very top and were rewarded with a breathtaking view of the valley. The club has also obtained uniform windbreakers with hiking club patches.

KSDA, the college radio station, featured news coverage during state elections in November. Presently the station is making plans to move the transmitter to the top of Two-bit Mountain, increasing transmitting power in order to serve Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino. KLSC, an AM station, has just begun operations this semester. The station can be heard on campus only; thus programs include commentaries of activities, elections and music geared to the LSC students. KLSC is run completely by students and many of the records played on the air are lent by the students.

Sharon McFeeters, station secretary, and Mike Conner, announcer.

Linda Knutson, traffic secretary, and Ron Bowes, public relations director.

Dr. Donald Dick, general manager of KSDA and KLSC, accepts check from Cornelius Smith, president of the Citrus Belters Barber-shop Chorus, for proceeds from their benefit program.

Pre-professional Clubs

The Business Club organized for the first time second semester of this year. The club showed a 1964 Olympic film. C. K. Yant, former Olympic star and now an insurance agent, showed and commented on the film. Mr. Don Clay, a medical office manager in the Los Angeles area, was also a guest speaker for the club.

Serving the largest number of students is the Pre-Med Club which includes students majoring in nursing, pre-dent and other medically-related fields. The club presents speakers from various schools who outline their school's admission requirements. It also features field trips to Loma Linda University and sponsors projects to send medicine and equipment to a foreign country.

Business Club officers talk with decathlon champion C. K. Yang. Jerry Babcock, treasurer; Dave Adams, vice president; Yang; Grant Sadler, president; Cherie Wright, secretary; and Jeni Spoo, publicity secretary.

Pre-med Club officers: Lonna Crane, secretary; Larry Hansen, vice president; Carl Fisher, treasurer; Dave Nelson, president; and Ken Webber, publicity.

Physics Club officers: Dr. Riggs, sponsor; Ted Bryson, president; and Connie Pender, secretary.

Jurisprudence Club officers: Roland Halstead, vice president; Alice Smith, president; and Mary Orr, secretary.

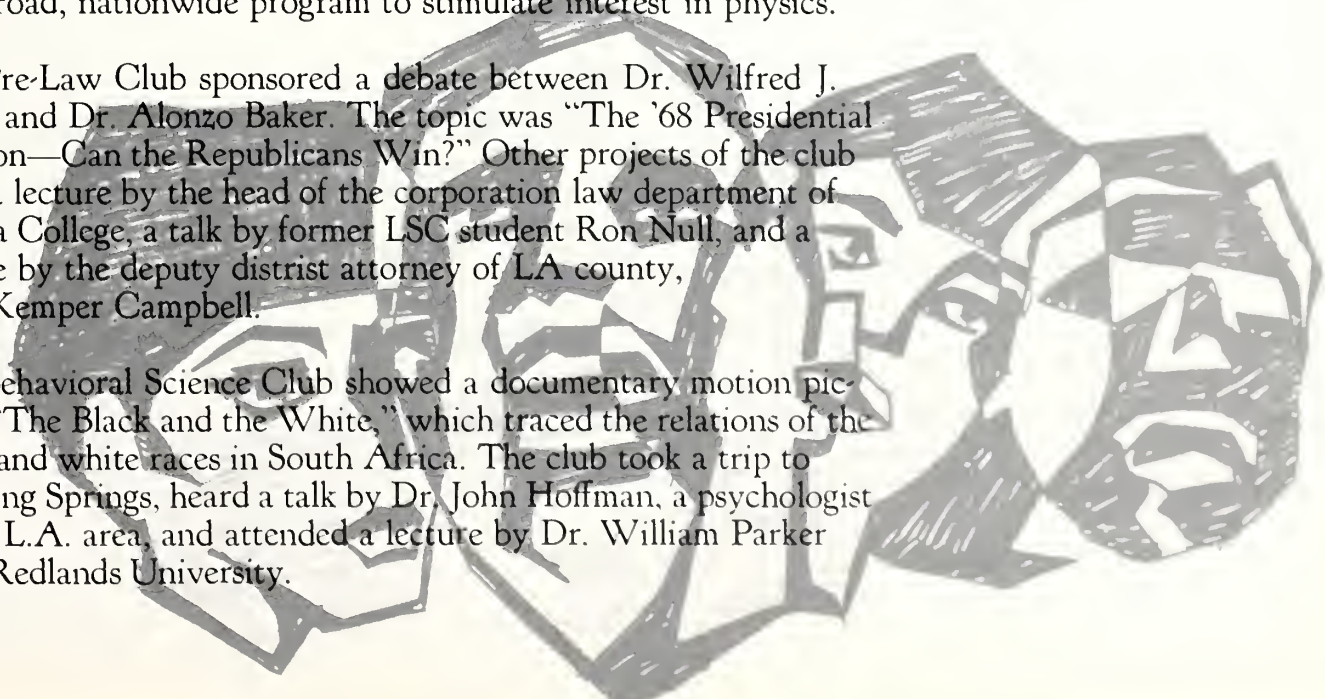

Behavioral Science Club officers: Cheryl Miller, publicity; Norman Lunt, president; and Anna Adair, secretary-treasurer.

Professor Gerhard L. Weissler of the department of physics at the University of Southern California lectured to the Physics Club. He visited under the auspices of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics as a part of a broad, nationwide program to stimulate interest in physics.

The Pre-Law Club sponsored a debate between Dr. Wilfred J. Airey and Dr. Alonzo Baker. The topic was "The '68 Presidential Election—Can the Republicans Win?" Other projects of the club were a lecture by the head of the corporation law department of Loyola College, a talk by former LSC student Ron Null, and a lecture by the deputy district attorney of LA county, Mrs. Kemper Campbell.

The Behavioral Science Club showed a documentary motion picture, "The Black and the White," which traced the relations of the black and white races in South Africa. The club took a trip to Running Springs, heard a talk by Dr. John Hoffman, a psychologist in the L.A. area, and attended a lecture by Dr. William Parker from Redlands University.

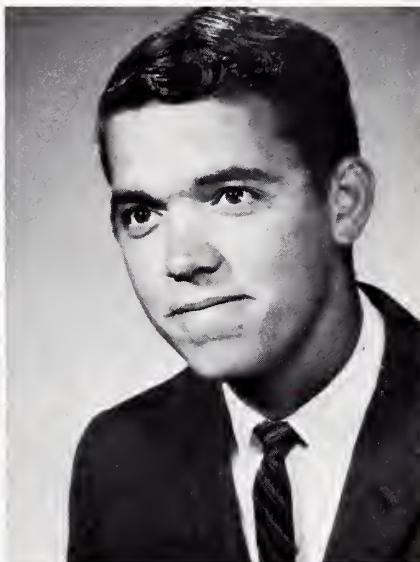

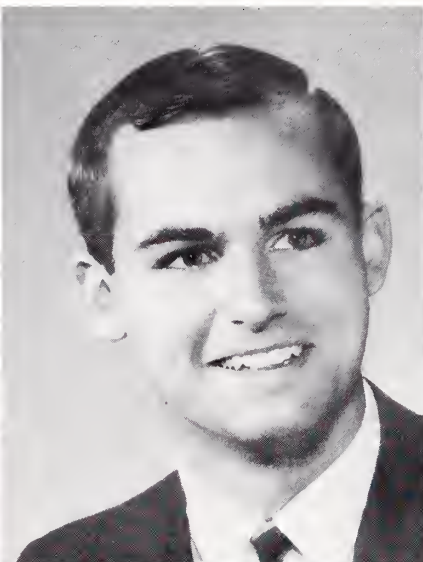

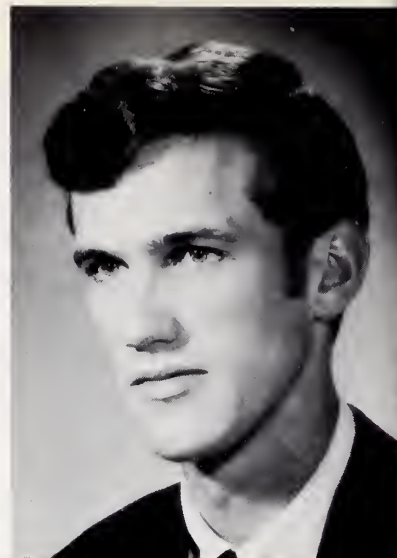

An abstract collage of faces created with thick red and blue ink on a light background. The faces are stylized, geometric, and overlapping. The top half features three large faces in red ink, while the bottom half features three large faces in blue ink. The faces are composed of sharp, angular lines and flat areas of color, giving them a mask-like or mask-like appearance. The overall composition is dynamic and layered, with the faces appearing to emerge from and recede into the background.

The Year Abroad

The main building at Marienhohe Seminary contains the girls' dorm, the cafeteria, chapel, and classrooms.

Doug and Peggy Baker enjoy a quiet moment at Darmstadt.

Year Abroad at Collonges

Male Year Abroad students had the privilege of living in the new boys' dorm built last year.

The chapel at Collonges is used by Year Abroad students for weekly religious services.

Dr. Zurcher accepts the piano Dr. Beach presents as a gift from La Sierra College.

This year forty-three American students are studying under the Year Abroad Program on the campuses at Collonges, France, and Darmstadt, Germany. The group spends three weeks traveling through France, Holland, Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Italy at the beginning of the school year and the students are free for two weeks during Christmas and Easter vacations to travel on their own. In addition to their classes at the Seminaire-Adventiste, the students at Collonges can study music at the Conservatory of Geneva. Although the main reason these students go to Europe is to master a foreign language, they also have a unique opportunity to learn to accept and understand a foreign culture.

La Centrale is used for classrooms and administrative offices at Collonges.

American students end Thanksgiving program by singing "America the Beautiful."

Collonges Students Relax

Many of the activities at Collonges are similar to those of La Sierra. The routine of worship, classes, meals and studying is basically the same, though the fact that a foreign language is an inescapable part of that routine can make it more fascinating and frustrating than it ever was at home. Since the students are free on Tuesday rather than Sunday, they must adjust to a short weekend and to studying on Saturday night. Monday night is the time for entertainment, which may consist of a film, faculty home parties, games, folk dancing or programs put on by the students themselves. Since the school is small (it has an enrollment of about 350), it is not unusual for most of the student body to set off together for a Sabbath afternoon hike or a picnic on the Saleve Mountain directly behind the school. Another center of activity, at least for the Americans, is the city of Geneva, an ideal place for shopping and concerts.

A scene from the Thanksgiving Day skit features Barry Benjamin taking a ride.

Companionable Expressions

In activities during spare moments students

congregate,

Enlivened with the spirit of closeness

Where quiet moments pass but not unshared

Or lively games enumerate enthusiasm

Where singing, joking, laughing merge

And design the faces of students socializing.

Faces, eager to belong, to lead or follow,

yet wanting to retain a little of themselves

join in friendly water fights, gentle kidding, spirited jostling.

Freshman Orientation

Several hundred freshman students who arrived on campus early were treated to a special freshman social in College Hall on their first Saturday night at La Sierra College.

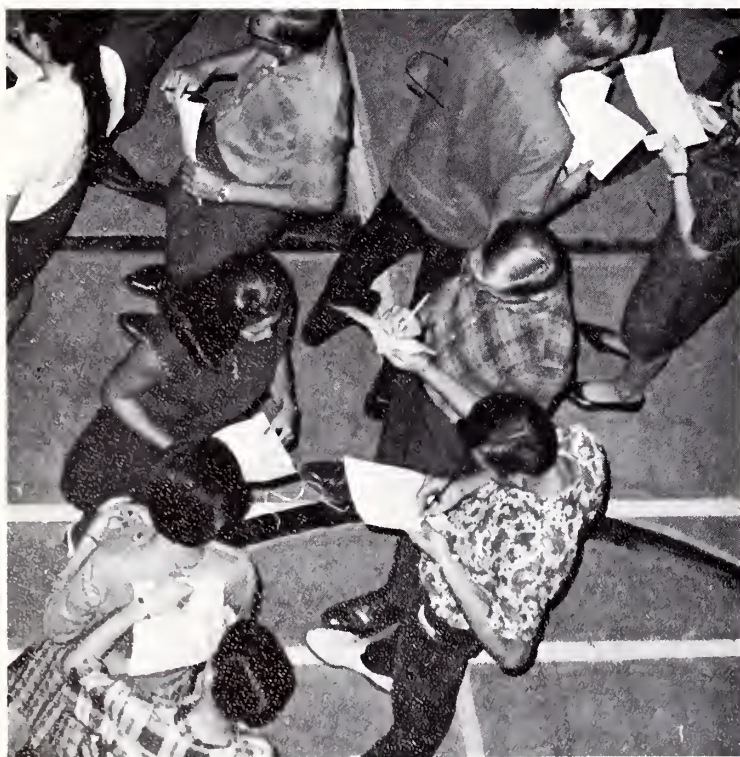

The social was a part of that exhausting and, at times, most frustrating schedule of activities otherwise known as freshman orientation. This year freshman orientation was conducted over a four-day period that also included registration.

Get Acquainted Event

The first ASLSC social activity of this year was presented in College Hall on September 24 as a get-acquainted party.

The party's activities included a name bingo game, a spoof on the Dating Game, and musical entertainment by the Rock Island Trio. Stan Aufdemberg emceed the evening's program.

Students become acquainted by playing people bingo.

Barnyard Party

La Sierra College students were treated to an outdoor social near the physical plant on November 5. The barnyard party featured audience participation games and a Western skit. Following the program, the students were served doughnuts, marshmallows, and hot chocolate.

"Evening in Autumn"

The Diamond Bar Country Club was the scene of this year's ASLSC Banquet. The theme for the banquet was "Evening in Autumn."

Following the buffet supper, the four hundred attendants were treated to an evening of music provided by singers from the Hidden Valley Music Seminar. Dr. Norman Lund from Loma Linda emceed the evening's festivities.

The Obernkirchen Children's Choir on their ninth tour of America presented La Sierra College's first Community Concert of the school year on November 12. The thirty-six-member choir was directed by Edith Moeller. The children presented a section of religious as well as secular music. To the delight of the audience the children's choir sang "A Happy Wanderer," a catchy tune for which the group has become famous the world over.

The Yale Accordion Symphony

On February 4 Paul La Valle and the Band of America presented a concert which was highlighted by a medley of theme songs from the great bands of the 20's and 30's.

The program consisted of light music recounting the history of band music and musical style.

Interspersed in the program were numbers sung by a vocal duet with the Band of America accompanying them. An unexpected feature was added when Mr. La Valle played two solos on his clarinet.

The twenty-five-member Yale Accordion Symphony presented the final Community Concert series of programs at La Sierra College on April 5. The program was directed by Oakley Yale.

Annual Faculty Home Christmas Parties

Faculty members living within walking distance of the college campus opened their doors to students on December 10 for the annual faculty home parties.

Tree decorating, popcorn stringing, toy animal stuffing, and indoor party games were among the activities students became engaged in at the parties.

Each Christmas faculty members offer to open their homes for student Christmas parties. Students are most likely to be invited to the home of a current teacher or a teacher for whom they work. The yearly parties are popular with students who appreciate seeing teachers at their informal best. Overheard at one home: Professor X certainly didn't learn those jokes in a history book.

The address, "Threats to Humanity," was presented by Dr. George Armacost, president of the University of Redlands. In his address, Dr. Armacost stated that although the world was progressing toward affluence, the ever increasing population tended to present more problems also. He enumerated on these as threats to be faced by the future generations. The class was presented by the academic dean, Dr. Richard B. Lewis.

Senior Class Presentation

A 196-member class was officially recognized as the graduating class of 1967 on December 8. The class was led by Jonathan Butler, senior class president. The members of the class donned traditional black gowns and marched down the aisle to "Pomp and Circumstance."

SPK Christmas Party for Orphans

On December 13 Sigma Phi Kappa sponsored its annual Christmas orphan party. Over thirty youngsters from the Riverside Juvenile Hall were treated to an evening of music, stories, and food in the Dining Commons.

The highlight of the evening came with the arrival of Santa Claus who distributed gifts to the children provided by the 450 members of the girls' club.

Happy girls watched as faces lit up, eyes widened, and exclamations of "Oh, a watch!" and "Look at my new glove!" were excitedly repeated.

Faculty Christmas Party

The annual faculty Christmas party was presented this year on December 11 in the Dining Commons. Faculty children were treated to a visit by Santa Claus and the distribution of gifts. Entertainment for the evening included musical selections by a faculty vocal group under the direction of Moses Chalmers and readings by Dr. Dick and Dr. Palmer.

Dr. Donald Dick presents a reading with the help of his three children.

Faculty-Board Banquet

Members of the faculty and the college board were feted October 31 at the annual Faculty-Board Banquet held this year in the Dining Commons. Following the buffet dinner, the Chamber Singers and a string trio presented several musical selections. Dr. Wilfred Airey showed slides taken on the La Sierra College tour he had led last summer in South America. Dr. Frederick Hoyt was emcee for the evening's program.

Paul Meier appears after finding out what it's like to be a volunteer in the Agriculture Club's "Dunk the Dane" booth.

The fifth annual Festival of Nations held in College Hall on February 25 was the scene of everything from frantic pillow fights to a violent car smashing. Over twenty clubs provided game booths and food booths where one could fill up on pizza, cotton candy, and tostados.

A program that concluded the evening's activities featured Roger Davenport as emcee, a truth or consequences game, and a vocal trio.

The prizes for the best booths went to the Hawaiian Club, Foreign Students Club, and the Sigma Phi Kappa Club.

Leonard Ramey as Ian Kinderaker, Dean of Students.

Cheerleaders Janene Turner, Jan Starr, Deedee Robello, Darleen Hansen, and head cheerleader Lanny Rudley, come off stage after leading in a rousing cheer for Jargon U.

Gymkhana Features

"Jargon U"

"Jargon U" was the theme for the fifteenth annual gymkhana program presented in College Hall on March 11. The spoof on higher education was written by Mrs. Joyce Dick, wife of Dr. Donald Dick, associate professor of speech and director of the program.

The production featured special performances by the sixteen-member gymkhana troupe who performed on the trampoline, horizontal bars, parallel bars, uneven parallel bars, balance beam, still rings, and in free exercise.

Bob Lynn and Danny Garcia, both contenders for the 1968 United States Olympic team, were guest performers for the program.

The Gymkhana program was dedicated to Mrs. Bettie Hartley, mother of Jack Hartley, instructor in speech, who died March 11.

Joanne Robbins as the agriculture teacher, "Sally Scuba," gives a lecture on underwater gardening to Dr. Donald Lee, alias "Abner Jukes," a student.

Kay Von Achen, alias "Volta Ampere," a physics teacher, presents a lesson on aerodynamics to Dr. James Riggs as "Derword Dimbulb," a student at Jargon U.

Lori Suelzle as "Claudia Hopper," a music student at Jargon U., plays her violin the "correct" way for Ray Shreve, alias "Ye Hudi Hifits," music teacher at the university.

The "Heart Of The White Memorial Medical Center is found not only in the life-giving procedures of heart surgery but also in the words of the dedicatory plaque: "This hospital is dedicated to the memory of Ellen Gould White whose long life was unselfishly devoted to the alleviation of the woes and sorrows of the sick, the suffering, and the needy, and to inspiring young men and women to consecrate their lives to the work of Him, Who said, 'Heal the sick'."

Pardon Our Boldness, Noah, while we do tip our hats to the Webster expertise in defining and explicating, you should know that Andrews University is in its Third International Edition¹ too! And you will want to note in your next addenda what Andrews has to offer the university-minded: • A Christian fraternity of scholars • A faculty qualified, dedicated, and accessible • Meaningful research in eternal verities • Curricula oriented to service-centered careers • An international graduate roster of 1,759 alumni. And, for a university, as Andrews sees it, these are the sine qua non. Any wonder, Noah, we say our aim in education is "something better"?² By the way, our admissions office will be happy to mail you the prospectus to our current International Edition. Just ask.

"The La Sierra Man At His Best"

In the fall multitudes gather to find their place in hallowed circles of educational institutions.

Here faces blend and shift become individual . . .
become whole . . .

The face of sensitive awareness supercedes that of freshman wonderment as new students soon oriented emerge from a state of dubious stability to one of self-attained confidence.

The cycle of learning continues as students, catalyzed by books, assimilate ideas, create thoughts, challenge hypotheses.
And faces meet faces, acquaint themselves, converse, draw themselves together into restrained attachments marriage partners
everlasting friendships.

Here students draw closer to God
as He becomes a living entity
Who molds, affects, stimulates . . .
and faces incorporate His love into their lives.

Individual faces change
as freshmen enter and seniors depart but the composite whole remains and the face of La Sierra College endures.
